

LIFTED CARS OFF THE TRACK

Striking Street Car Men in Milwaukee Are in Earnest

THE MAYOR APPEALED TO Boards.

THE STRIKERS APPEAR TO BE DETERMINED

A Conference May Be Had, but Some Think the Strikers Won't

Milwaukee, Wis., May 5.—The strike situation this afternoon is becoming compli-

The street railway company directors had an interview with the mayor and asked him for protection to run their cars. They

There was serious trouble on Reed street

A mob stopped a car and lifted it from the track and the police had hard work to keep the crowd from smashing it. On the

A special meeting of the city council to consider the strike matter. A movement is on foot among business men to have a committee appointed from among the merchants and strikers to arbitrate a

The mayor issued a proclamation this afternoon asking the people to keep off

STRIKE IN SAVANNAH

ON THE WHARVES OF THE OCEAN STEAMSHIP COMPANY.

Which the Laborers Worked
When They Pleased.

Savannah, Ga., May 5—(Special.)—There is quite a row in progress on the Ocean steamship wharves between the laborers and the officials. The officials have just decided to put on a permanent gang of 100 men to be paid off every Saturday night, instead of employing all gangmen and truckers by the hour as has been done heretofore. Extra help when needed will also be employed by the hour. The men, if anything, are able to make more wages under this arrangement than they were cause heretofore they have had the whole thing in their own hands, and a man could take his turn at working, then knock off and loaf for a while.

The negroes are mad because this arrangement was broken. They want the old schedule, at so much an hour, so they can work when they please and quit when they please.

So far, only about fifty of the gang of 100 have been secured, and there is quite a shortage of men on the wharf. The other laborers have struck. About saying they would not go back to work unless satisfactory arrangements were made.

Last night Friday Graham, one of the of laborers as it was leaving the wharf, but no one was hit. He is now in jail. President H. M. Comer insists that there will be no trouble on the wharves, and that KILLED WITH A PALING.

A Young White Man of Thomasville Slain by a Negro.

Thomasville, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)—Charles Platt, a young white man, seventeen years old, shot today from the effects of a blow on the head, received late Monday evening. Platt and a friend were driving up Washington street and met a words in regard to who should give the right of way, and Platt and his friend jumped from the cart in which they were riding and started toward the negro.

wood and the other a whip handle. Sharp jerked a piling off a fence and struck the nearest one, which was Platt, over the head. The negro then ran, and, him, he made good his escape. Thinking, however, that Platt was not dangerously hurt, Sharp came in this afternoon and surrendered to the sheriff. He does not in a Tragedy.

CUT HIS BROTHER'S THROAT.

Talbotton, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)—Yesterday afternoon Jim Hammock and Bone Hammock, brothers and sons of Man

Tracey Hammock, of Marion county, near the line of Talbot, while engaged in field work, became involved in a difficulty, which may result in the death of one of them.

ke his brother's work and reproved him. This brought on an altercation which resulted in the serious wounding of Jim Hammeck, his throat being badly cut. His con-ardly probable that he can recover. After his difficulty he requested that in case of his death his brother be not punished for the deed.

MANGLED IN A MINE.
Two Men Torn to Pieces by a Dyna-

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 5.—(Special).—George Cannon and Thomas A. Therton were blown to pieces by an explosion in the Whitwell mine, near here, this after-the rooms. They waited some time for the fuse to ignite and growing tired went back to see what was the matter. They had hardly entered the room then the explosion

The African Methodist Conference.

ference of the African Methodist church as opened today by ex-Judge D. L. Russell, representing the mayor and board of aldermen of Wilmington; Bishop Wesley Gaines, Revs. J. W. Telfair, E. J.

were responded to by Bishop Abram Grant, Georgia; J. C. Embro, of Pennsylvania; P. Ross, of Mississippi, and T. McCant Stewart, of New York.

THE PEOPLE AND THE SENATOR

More Counties Provide for the Primary Expression on the Subject.

THE LIST CONTINUES TO GROW

Reports from Thirteen Counties Show That the People Are Winning.

WARNER HILL OUT FOR CONGRESS

The Meriwether County Committee Presents Him to the District-State Convention Delegates Chosen.

Knoxville, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)—At a mass meeting of the democrats of Crawford county held here today a new executive committee was elected to serve for the next two years. The new committee ordered a primary election to be held on June 6th for the purpose of selecting candidates for county officers, representative and senatorial and congressional conventions, and for an expression of the people on the United States senatorship. Delegates to the state convention were elected in the mass meeting.

Haralson Is in Line.

Buchanan, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)—The democratic executive committee of Haralson county met here today and called a mass meeting for June 6th to elect delegates to the state and congressional conventions and to express a choice for United States senator.

A new executive committee will be elected on that day. Nothing was said about candidates for state senate and legislature and county officers.

"As Early Goes, So Goes the State."

Blakely, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)—The democratic executive committee met today and ordered primaries to be held on the 6th of June for the election of delegates to the gubernatorial convention, to nominate county officers, a representative and senator to elect a new executive committee and to express a choice for United States senator.

There was quite a fight made by the gold standard members of the committee against this action of the committee, but the free silver cause, championed by Messrs. Thomas C. Swann and John W. Robertson declared for sound money. After taking a ballot the committee stood as follows: Hayman, W. M. Middlebrook, E. W. Robertson, 15. Resolutions were adopted endorsing Hon. L. F. Livingston and his record in congress and commending the choice of the democratic party of the fifth congressional district for renomination.

It was also resolved that a primary election be held on Saturday, July 11, 1896 to nominate candidates for county officers and a candidate for the house of representatives of Georgia, to express the choice of the democratic party of Newton county, for congressman from the district and for United States senator.

A resolution was then adopted strongly endorsing Judge Crisp's course in congress. As a final resolution an urgent invitation was given to all those citizens of Newton county who believe in democratic principles and are willing to support the nomination of the party, to participate in the primary election.

Colonel Livingston Speaks.

Hon. L. F. Livingston then proceeded to deliver a speech in which his well-known views were made plain.

During the course of his speech Mr. Livingston was frequently applauded, and it was evident that the greater part of his audience was free coinage men.

Harris Is in Line.

Chipley, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)—At a mass meeting held by the democratic party of Harris county today primary elections were given to all county and state officers and the endorsement of United States senator and congressman from the fourth congressional district were ordered by said meeting almost unanimously for the 6th day of June.

Colonel B. H. Walton called the meeting to order. Colonel W. H. Luttrell was elected chairman; A. E. Williams, B. F. Hill and Dr. R. H. Williams were elected secretaries. It was then in order to elect a new democratic executive committee, which was soon done by the representatives of each militia district, returning this committee:

A. L. Moore, Blue Springs; J. A. Williams, Mountain Hill; L. D. Hutchins, Mountain Hill; J. M. Askew, Mountain Hill; B. J. McDaniel, Shiloh; J. F. Jenon, of Philadelphia.

At the completion of the proceedings the retiring secretary was thanked for the able manner in which he had filled the responsible office. The retiring secretary was then elected by the members of the association, and a place for the next convention was made by the retiring secretary. A number of papers will be read by the retiring secretary. A number of papers will be read by the retiring secretary.

At the completion of the proceedings the retiring secretary was thanked for the able manner in which he had filled the responsible office. The retiring secretary was then elected by the members of the association, and a place for the next convention was made by the retiring secretary. A number of papers will be read by the retiring secretary.

At the completion of the proceedings the retiring secretary was thanked for the able manner in which he had filled the responsible office. The retiring secretary was then elected by the members of the association, and a place for the next convention was made by the retiring secretary. A number of papers will be read by the retiring secretary.

At the completion of the proceedings the retiring secretary was thanked for the able manner in which he had filled the responsible office. The retiring secretary was then elected by the members of the association, and a place for the next convention was made by the retiring secretary. A number of papers will be read by the retiring secretary.

At the completion of the proceedings the retiring secretary was thanked for the able manner in which he had filled the responsible office. The retiring secretary was then elected by the members of the association, and a place for the next convention was made by the retiring secretary. A number of papers will be read by the retiring secretary.

At the completion of the proceedings the retiring secretary was thanked for the able manner in which he had filled the responsible office. The retiring secretary was then elected by the members of the association, and a place for the next convention was made by the retiring secretary. A number of papers will be read by the retiring secretary.

At the completion of the proceedings the retiring secretary was thanked for the able manner in which he had filled the responsible office. The retiring secretary was then elected by the members of the association, and a place for the next convention was made by the retiring secretary. A number of papers will be read by the retiring secretary.

At the completion of the proceedings the retiring secretary was thanked for the able manner in which he had filled the responsible office. The retiring secretary was then elected by the members of the association, and a place for the next convention was made by the retiring secretary. A number of papers will be read by the retiring secretary.

At the completion of the proceedings the retiring secretary was thanked for the able manner in which he had filled the responsible office. The retiring secretary was then elected by the members of the association, and a place for the next convention was made by the retiring secretary. A number of papers will be read by the retiring secretary.

At the completion of the proceedings the retiring secretary was thanked for the able manner in which he had filled the responsible office. The retiring secretary was then elected by the members of the association, and a place for the next convention was made by the retiring secretary. A number of papers will be read by the retiring secretary.

At the completion of the proceedings the retiring secretary was thanked for the able manner in which he had filled the responsible office. The retiring secretary was then elected by the members of the association, and a place for the next convention was made by the retiring secretary. A number of papers will be read by the retiring secretary.

At the completion of the proceedings the retiring secretary was thanked for the able manner in which he had filled the responsible office. The retiring secretary was then elected by the members of the association, and a place for the next convention was made by the retiring secretary. A number of papers will be read by the retiring secretary.

At the completion of the proceedings the retiring secretary was thanked for the able manner in which he had filled the responsible office. The retiring secretary was then elected by the members of the association, and a place for the next convention was made by the retiring secretary. A number of papers will be read by the retiring secretary.

At the completion of the proceedings the retiring secretary was thanked for the able manner in which he had filled the responsible office. The retiring secretary was then elected by the members of the association, and a place for the next convention was made by the retiring secretary. A number of papers will be read by the retiring secretary.

At the completion of the proceedings the retiring secretary was thanked for the able manner in which he had filled the responsible office. The retiring secretary was then elected by the members of the association, and a place for the next convention was made by the retiring secretary. A number of papers will be read by the retiring secretary.

At the completion of the proceedings the retiring secretary was thanked for the able manner in which he had filled the responsible office. The retiring secretary was then elected by the members of the association, and a place for the next convention was made by the retiring secretary. A number of papers will be read by the retiring secretary.

At the completion of the proceedings the retiring secretary was thanked for the able manner in which he had filled the responsible office. The retiring secretary was then elected by the members of the association, and a place for the next convention was made by the retiring secretary. A number of papers will be read by the retiring secretary.

At the completion of the proceedings the retiring secretary was thanked for the able manner in which he had filled the responsible office. The retiring secretary was then elected by the members of the association, and a place for the next convention was made by the retiring secretary. A number of papers will be read by the retiring secretary.

IN ALLEN'S BEHALF DUEL TO THE DEATH

One Negro Dead and Another One Seriously Wounded.

A THIRD HIT WITH A BULLET

Negroes on a Turpentine Farm Near Valdosta Fire as They Advance on Each Other.

Valdosta, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)—Two negro men, named Amorous Jones and Tom Floyd, working at the turpentine still of Lucas & Conley, five miles below here, fought a duel to the death yesterday evening. Unlike most negro duels, both of the participants were cool and sober, and faced each other for the sole purpose of settling a difficulty between themselves. The fighting was terrific at times. Once the wire leading into the telephone office was struck and burned out. When that flash of lightning came Messrs. Jim Hutcherson and John Winter were standing near a window in a store and both were hurled to the floor, where they lay insensible for some time.

Mr. Winter soon recovered, but Mr. Hutcherson was not so fortunate. He was struck on the hip, the fiery bolt passing downward. He is completely paralyzed below the point where the bolt struck him and says he will never be able to walk any more.

Royal Arcanum Delegates.

The delegates to the annual meeting of the grand council of the Royal Arcanum are arriving here, and when that body is called to order tomorrow morning 150 delegates are expected to be present. It will require a session two days, during which time considerable business of importance will be transacted. Grand Regent L. R. Roy, of Atlanta, will preside over the council.

Off on a Survey.

Professor Charles M. Strahan, of the engineering department of the University of Georgia, left yesterday afternoon with the students of engineering for Florence, Ga. His class will survey a railroad line from Florence to Beaufort for private parties. Several other parties are interested in this short line of railway. This actual practice in railroad surveying is of great value to the university boys in the engineering courses.

Committee Meets Saturday.

The democratic executive committee of Clarke county has been called by Chairman J. F. Foster to meet at his office in this city next Saturday morning, at which time several matters of importance to the party are to be arranged. The democracy of Clarke is in good condition for the coming fight.

Sale of Property.

This morning several pieces of property were sold at the county courthouse at fair prices. Among others were two storehouses on Broad street, belonging to the estate of the late Joseph M. Barry. These two stores were sold for $755.

Off for Chattanooga.

Quite a number of delegates will go from here to the Southern Baptist convention at Chattanooga, which convenes Thursday. These delegates will be accompanied by Dr. H. Young, who will attend from here. Dr. H. Young, Dr. E. B. Riley, Rev. R. B. Burt, Rev. E. Elliott, Rev. J. S. Fields, Mr. T. S. Moll, Judge S. M. Thompson, and Mr. J. D. Mott, all add to the number of delegates.

Alaska Gold Mines.

The valley of the Yukon river, Alaska, is the richest gold producing country in the world. The best of the several gold mines has ever been discovered. The world's rates of fare, etc., address James A. Ajar, general agent, Union Pacific railway, St. Louis, Mo. apr 16-30 e o d

Summer Excursion Tickets to Seashore Resorts.

The Southern railway now has on sale summer excursion tickets to Cumberland Island, Morehead City, Tybee, Ga.; St. Simon's Island, Sunbeam Springs, Fla.; White Springs, Fla. The tickets are good to return until October 31, 1896.

For full information apply to agent Southern railway, ticket office, Kimball house corner.

A. A. VERNON, Passenger Agent, Southern Railway, District Passenger Agent, Atlanta, Ga.

Half Holiday for Freight Clerks.

The Georgia railroad commission has passed an order yesterday allowing the freight warehouses to close at 3 o'clock p. m. on Saturdays. This was done on the request of the agents of the several railroads. They desired to give their clerks a half holiday on Saturdays. It was agreed that if there was a rule of the commission which forbade closing the offices so early after consideration the petition the commission amended its rule.

Special Baptist young people's train for Chattanooga via Southern railway leaves Atlanta 6 a. m. May 7th, arrive Chattanooga 10 a. m. Also regular daily train leave Atlanta 7:30 a. m. 1:30 p. m. 10 p. m. Round trip tickets $1.00, on sale May 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31. Ticket office Kimball house corner.

As to Monroe County.

Editor Constitution: The boys laugh and wink at each other when they read in the "official organ" the following county can be relied on to send sound money delegates to the state convention. They ask the boys in the country and town what the "straw" means. They have been in the habit of carrying the votes of Monroe in their vest pockets. But that kind of racket can't be played on any more.

Three-fourths of the democratic voters in Monroe county have pledged themselves to vote for the democratic doctrine of the double metallic standard, and the representatives of this theory, and propose to vote to the polls the silver standard. They have to do with their families they propose to be true to this sacred interest. Already hints are being thrown out about the use of money by these goldbug republicans. They are expected to bring their money, but the white metal will have their support.

At least three-fourths of the democratic voters of Monroe are enthusiastically in favor of silver restoration, and will not support any man for office whose record is not clear on that question. They know what the "straw" means. They have had enough of that kind of "meat to feed on." These voters are in a hurry to know the administration leaders are abroad in the land. The work in Michigan has taught a valuable lesson. We recognize the fact that gold and silver are both metals, and that they are both standard, and don't let any fellow feel that the double standard fellows say they intend to carry their tickets to the polls in their breeches pockets—no vest pocket business this time.

The Constitution is making friends by its fight for the people and for bimetalism. You told us the truth in 1892, but we left it to another voice and were led astray. Experience has taught us a lesson. We are now in a position to say that the Constitution says this time and do what it says. Count Monroe's four delegates for the double standard, and don't let any fellow feel in his vest pocket, take it out, examine it and say this is not true. DOUBLE STANDARD. Red Hill, Monroe county, May 4, 1896.

Summer Excursion Tickets to Seashore Resorts.

The Southern railway now has on sale summer excursion tickets to Cumberland Island, Morehead City, Tybee, Ga.; St. Simon's Island, Sunbeam Springs, Fla.; White Springs, Fla. The tickets are good to return until October 31, 1896.

For full information apply to agent Southern railway ticket office, Kimball house corner.

A. A. VERNON, Passenger Agent, Southern Railway, District Passenger Agent, Atlanta, Ga.

At 3 O'Clock.

Tomorrow afternoon Colonel G. W. Adair and Dr. H. L. Taylor will sell the Exposition buildings. Apply. Don't miss the show.

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.

THE CONSTITUTION: ATLANTA, GA. WEDNESDAY MAY 6 1896

One Negro Dead and Another One Seriously Wounded.

A THIRD HIT WITH A BULLET

Negroes on a Turpentine Farm Near Valdosta Fire as They Advance on Each Other.

Valdosta, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)—Two negro men, named Amorous Jones and Tom Floyd, working at the turpentine still of Lucas & Conley, five miles below here, fought a duel to the death yesterday evening. Unlike most negro duels, both of the participants were cool and sober, and faced each other for the sole purpose of settling a difficulty between themselves. The fighting was terrific at times. Once the wire leading into the telephone office was struck and burned out. When that flash of lightning came Messrs. Jim Hutcherson and John Winter were standing near a window in a store and both were hurled to the floor, where they lay insensible for some time.

Mr. Winter soon recovered, but Mr. Hutcherson was not so fortunate. He was struck on the hip, the fiery bolt passing downward. He is completely paralyzed below the point where the bolt struck him and says he will never be able to walk any more.

Royal Arcanum Delegates.

The delegates to the annual meeting of the grand council of the Royal Arcanum are arriving here, and when that body is called to order tomorrow morning 150 delegates are expected to be present. It will require a session two days, during which time considerable business of importance will be transacted. Grand Regent L. R. Roy, of Atlanta, will preside over the council.

Off on a Survey.

Professor Charles M. Strahan, of the engineering department of the University of Georgia, left yesterday afternoon with the students of engineering for Florence, Ga. His class will survey a railroad line from Florence to Beaufort for private parties. Several other parties are interested in this short line of railway. This actual practice in railroad surveying is of great value to the university boys in the engineering courses.

Committee Meets Saturday.

The democratic executive committee of Clarke county has been called by Chairman J. F. Foster to meet at his office in this city next Saturday morning, at which time several matters of importance to the party are to be arranged. The democracy of Clarke is in good condition for the coming fight.

Sale of Property.

This morning several pieces of property were sold at the county courthouse at fair prices. Among others were two storehouses on Broad street, belonging to the estate of the late Joseph M. Barry. These two stores were sold for $755.

Off for Chattanooga.

Quite a number of delegates will go from here to the Southern Baptist convention at Chattanooga, which convenes Thursday. These delegates will be accompanied by Dr. H. Young, who will attend from here. Dr. H. Young, Dr. E. B. Riley, Rev. R. B. Burt, Rev. E. Elliott, Rev. J. S. Fields, Mr. T. S. Moll, Judge S. M. Thompson, and Mr. J. D. Mott, all add to the number of delegates.

Alaska Gold Mines.

The valley of the Yukon river, Alaska, is the richest gold producing country in the world. The best of the several gold mines has ever been discovered. The world's rates of fare, etc., address James A. Ajar, general agent, Union Pacific railway, St. Louis, Mo. apr 16-30 e o d

Summer Excursion Tickets to Seashore Resorts.

The Southern railway now has on sale summer excursion tickets to Cumberland Island, Morehead City, Tybee, Ga.; St. Simon's Island, Sunbeam Springs, Fla.; White Springs, Fla. The tickets are good to return until October 31, 1896.

For full information apply to agent Southern railway, ticket office, Kimball house corner.

A. A. VERNON, Passenger Agent, Southern Railway, District Passenger Agent, Atlanta, Ga.

Half Holiday for Freight Clerks.

The Georgia railroad commission has passed an order yesterday allowing the freight warehouses to close at 3 o'clock p. m. on Saturdays. This was done on the request of the agents of the several railroads. They desired to give their clerks a half holiday on Saturdays. It was agreed that if there was a rule of the commission which forbade closing the offices so early after consideration the petition the commission amended its rule.

Special Baptist young people's train for Chattanooga via Southern railway leaves Atlanta 6 a. m. May 7th, arrive Chattanooga 10 a. m. Also regular daily train leave Atlanta 7:30 a. m. 1:30 p. m. 10 p. m. Round trip tickets $1.00, on sale May 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31. Ticket office Kimball house corner.

As to Monroe County.

Editor Constitution: The boys laugh and wink at each other when they read in the "official organ" the following county can be relied on to send sound money delegates to the state convention. They ask the boys in the country and town what the "straw" means. They have been in the habit of carrying the votes of Monroe in their vest pockets. But that kind of racket can't be played on any more.

Three-fourths of the democratic voters in Monroe county have pledged themselves to vote for the democratic doctrine of the double metallic standard, and the representatives of this theory, and propose to vote to the polls the silver standard. They have to do with their families they propose to be true to this sacred interest. Already hints are being thrown out about the use of money by these goldbug republicans. They are expected to bring their money, but the white metal will have their support.

At least three-fourths of the democratic voters of Monroe are enthusiastically in favor of silver restoration, and will not support any man for office whose record is not clear on that question. They know what the "straw" means. They have had enough of that kind of "meat to feed on." These voters are in a hurry to know the administration leaders are abroad in the land. The work in Michigan has taught a valuable lesson. We recognize the fact that gold and silver are both metals, and that they are both standard, and don't let any fellow feel that the double standard fellows say they intend to carry their tickets to the polls in their breeches pockets—no vest pocket business this time.

The Constitution is making friends by its fight for the people and for bimetalism. You told us the truth in 1892, but we left it to another voice and were led astray. Experience has taught us a lesson. We are now in a position to say that the Constitution says this time and do what it says. Count Monroe's four delegates for the double standard, and don't let any fellow feel in his vest pocket, take it out, examine it and say this is not true. DOUBLE STANDARD. Red Hill, Monroe county, May 4, 1896.

Summer Excursion Tickets to Seashore Resorts.

The Southern railway now has on sale summer excursion tickets to Cumberland Island, Morehead City, Tybee, Ga.; St. Simon's Island, Sunbeam Springs, Fla.; White Springs, Fla. The tickets are good to return until October 31, 1896.

For full information apply to agent Southern railway ticket office, Kimball house corner.

A. A. VERNON, Passenger Agent, Southern Railway, District Passenger Agent, Atlanta, Ga.

At 3 O'Clock.

Tomorrow afternoon Colonel G. W. Adair and Dr. H. L. Taylor will sell the Exposition buildings. Apply. Don't miss the show.

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.

THE CONSTITUTION: ATLANTA, GA. WEDNESDAY MAY 6 1896

One Negro Dead and Another One Seriously Wounded.

A THIRD HIT WITH A BULLET

Negroes on a Turpentine Farm Near Valdosta Fire as They Advance on Each Other.

Valdosta, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)—Two negro men, named Amorous Jones and Tom Floyd, working at the turpentine still of Lucas & Conley, five miles below here, fought a duel to the death yesterday evening. Unlike most negro duels, both of the participants were cool and sober, and faced each other for the sole purpose of settling a difficulty between themselves. The fighting was terrific at times. Once the wire leading into the telephone office was struck and burned out. When that flash of lightning came Messrs. Jim Hutcherson and John Winter were standing near a window in a store and both were hurled to the floor, where they lay insensible for some time.

Mr. Winter soon recovered, but Mr. Hutcherson was not so fortunate. He was struck on the hip, the fiery bolt passing downward. He is completely paralyzed below the point where the bolt struck him and says he will never be able to walk any more.

Royal Arcanum Delegates.

The delegates to the annual meeting of the grand council of the Royal Arcanum are arriving here, and when that body is called to order tomorrow morning 150 delegates are expected to be present. It will require a session two days, during which time considerable business of importance will be transacted. Grand Regent L. R. Roy, of Atlanta, will preside over the council.

Off on a Survey.

Professor Charles M. Strahan, of the engineering department of the University of Georgia, left yesterday afternoon with the students of engineering for Florence, Ga. His class will survey a railroad line from Florence to Beaufort for private parties. Several other parties are interested in this short line of railway. This actual practice in railroad surveying is of great value to the university boys in the engineering courses.

Committee Meets Saturday.

The democratic executive committee of Clarke county has been called by Chairman J. F. Foster to meet at his office in this city next Saturday morning, at which time several matters of importance to the party are to be arranged. The democracy of Clarke is in good condition for the coming fight.

Sale of Property.

This morning several pieces of property were sold at the county courthouse at fair prices. Among others were two storehouses on Broad street, belonging to the estate of the late Joseph M. Barry. These two stores were sold for $755.

Off for Chattanooga.

Quite a number of delegates will go from here to the Southern Baptist convention at Chattanooga, which convenes Thursday. These delegates will be accompanied by Dr. H. Young, who will attend from here. Dr. H. Young, Dr. E. B. Riley, Rev. R. B. Burt, Rev. E. Elliott, Rev. J. S. Fields, Mr. T. S. Moll, Judge S. M. Thompson, and Mr. J. D. Mott, all add to the number of delegates.

Alaska Gold Mines.

The valley of the Yukon river, Alaska, is the richest gold producing country in the world. The best of the several gold mines has ever been discovered. The world's rates of fare, etc., address James A. Ajar, general agent, Union Pacific railway, St. Louis, Mo. apr 16-30 e o d

Summer Excursion Tickets to Seashore Resorts.

The Southern railway now has on sale summer excursion tickets to Cumberland Island, Morehead City, Tybee, Ga.; St. Simon's Island, Sunbeam Springs, Fla.; White Springs, Fla. The tickets are good to return until October 31, 1896.

For full information apply to agent Southern railway, ticket office, Kimball house corner.

A. A. VERNON, Passenger Agent, Southern Railway, District Passenger Agent, Atlanta, Ga.

Half Holiday for Freight Clerks.

The Georgia railroad commission has passed an order yesterday allowing the freight warehouses to close at 3 o'clock p. m. on Saturdays. This was done on the request of the agents of the several railroads. They desired to give their clerks a half holiday on Saturdays. It was agreed that if there was a rule of the commission which forbade closing the offices so early after consideration the petition the commission amended its rule.

Special Baptist young people's train for Chattanooga via Southern railway leaves Atlanta 6 a. m. May 7th, arrive Chattanooga 10 a. m. Also regular daily train leave Atlanta 7:30 a. m. 1:30 p. m. 10 p. m. Round trip tickets $1.00, on sale May 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31. Ticket office Kimball house corner.

As to Monroe County.

Editor Constitution: The boys laugh and wink at each other when they read in the "official organ" the following county can be relied on to send sound money delegates to the state convention. They ask the boys in the country and town what the "straw" means. They have been in the habit of carrying the votes of Monroe in their vest pockets. But that kind of racket can't be played on any more.

Three-fourths of the democratic voters in Monroe county have pledged themselves to vote for the democratic doctrine of the double metallic standard, and the representatives of this theory, and propose to vote to the polls the silver standard. They have to do with their families they propose to be true to this sacred interest. Already hints are being thrown out about the use of money by these goldbug republicans. They are expected to bring their money, but the white metal will have their support.

At least three-fourths of the democratic voters of Monroe are enthusiastically in favor of silver restoration, and will not support any man for office whose record is not clear on that question. They know what the "straw" means. They have had enough of that kind of "meat to feed on." These voters are in a hurry to know the administration leaders are abroad in the land. The work in Michigan has taught a valuable lesson. We recognize the fact that gold and silver are both metals, and that they are both standard, and don't let any fellow feel that the double standard fellows say they intend to carry their tickets to the polls in their breeches pockets—no vest pocket business this time.

The Constitution is making friends by its fight for the people and for bimetalism. You told us the truth in 1892, but we left it to another voice and were led astray. Experience has taught us a lesson. We are now in a position to say that the Constitution says this time and do what it says. Count Monroe's four delegates for the double standard, and don't let any fellow feel in his vest pocket, take it out, examine it and say this is not true. DOUBLE STANDARD. Red Hill, Monroe county, May 4, 1896.

Summer Excursion Tickets to Seashore Resorts.

The Southern railway now has on sale summer excursion tickets to Cumberland Island, Morehead City, Tybee, Ga.; St. Simon's Island, Sunbeam Springs, Fla.; White Springs, Fla. The tickets are good to return until October 31, 1896.

EMINENT DOCTORS IN ATLANTA.

DR. JOHN B. HAMILTON. DR. HENRY O. MARCY. DR. WILLIAM WARREN POTTER. DR. W. H. DALY. DR. JOHN A. WYETH. DR. HUNTER MCGUIRE. DR. WILLIAM PEPPER. DR. DONALDSON McLEAN. DR. CHARLES A. L. REED. DR. J. N. LOVE OF ST. LOUIS.

DOCTORS WORK AND ALSO PLAY

First Session of the Great Medical Convention.

MUCH ENTHUSIASM SHOWN

Interesting Papers Read on Recent Scientific Discoveries.

GRAVES'S WELCOME SPEECH

Many Banquets and Dinners Enjoyed Last Night.

BIG BARBECUE AT LITHIA SPRINGS TODAY

Special Train Leaves the Union Depot at 1 O'Clock for the Old-Fashioned Holiday Feast.

Yesterday was a red letter day in the history of the American Medical Association. The first session of the forty-seventh annual convention of this body was held in the Grand opera house and over a thousand of the leading physicians and surgeons of the United States gathered to discuss the progress and advancement of the profession.

The Grand has seldom, if ever, had within its walls a more distinguished body. There was "lone" to the convention which can only be found in such an immense gathering of men when the participants are men of dignity and professional learning.

PRESIDENT COLE CALLING THE CONVENTION TO ORDER.

From the Golden Gate at San Francisco to Plymouth Rock, and from the far northwest down to the extremity of Florida's peninsula, came the representative medical men of the union to attend this great convention.

Every branch of medical and surgical science was represented by the most prominent specialists of America, and the result of the conferences and deliberations of the body promises to be of great benefit to the profession as a whole.

At the several section meetings which were held in the morning and afternoon of yesterday, carefully prepared papers of the Kimball house, the Hotel Aragon and at the chamber of commerce.

JAMES McF. GASTON, JR., Assistant Secretary of the American Medical Association.

Convention Called to Order.

Long before the hour arrived for the big session of all the doctors in the Grand opera house and boxes began to be filled with the distinguished visitors and their wives. The visiting ladies took great interest in the proceedings and wore their prettiest gowns in honor of the occasion. Their presence added a great deal to the magnificence of the occasion, and the doctors, though always dignified, took special pains to present their appearance and to be on their best behavior.

The scene in the lobby and foyer of the theater was one of unusual bustle and activity. If one supposed that the details attending the management of a convention of over a thousand men can be easily attended to he is mistaken. There is a great deal of work to be accomplished and it can only be done by systematic and persistent effort.

The officers who attended to the registration, the receipts of dues, the signing of railroad tickets, the issuance of certificates, invitations, etc., had all that they could manage yesterday. Booths and tables were arranged in the lobby to facilitate this work and all day long they were the centers of activity.

Every comfort for the visitors had been carefully looked after by the local committee on arrangements.

The stage of the opera house was covered with ferns, palms and evergreens and looked like a beautiful flower garden.

Dr. R. Beverly Cole, of California, stepped forward for a few minutes before 11 o'clock. He invited all the presidents of the association and leading officers of other medical associations to seats on the stage and soon many of the most distinguished physicians and surgeons in the city were grouped around President Cole on the platform.

The exercises were opened by a fervent prayer by Dr. Henry McDonald.

An Eloquent Address of Welcome.

Dr. Frank M. Ridley, of LaGrange, was then introduced and he eloquently delivered an address of welcome.

"President and Gentlemen of the American Medical Association: I would confess that I am profoundly sensible of the distinction conferred upon me by my professional brethren which places me here. Aside from an apprehension of my fitness to properly perform the task, it would be a labor of love to extend to you their greetings.

"Such a welcome comes not alone from this fair city, which is the pride and marvel of us all, but from the great heart of this great commonwealth, stretching as it does from the sunlit summit of Lookout to the white sands of our coast.

"Founded in the wisdom and generosity of Oglethorpe, it was the youngest and most progressive of our cities, and it was by their combined efforts that the yoke of British domination on the plains of Yorktown. Not only so, but by the aid of the brave and noble men of the South, it was that great universal emancipation, and which today, it may be, is thundering at the gates of Morocco under the banner of liberty-seeking Cuba from the distress and the Spanish thralldom. In the meantime Georgia has grown to such proportions as to be recognized as no dubious sense as the Empire State of the South.

"Here, then, gentlemen, in this capital of the Empire State, I bid you greet: here under the shadow of Stone Mountain, that huge boulder upheaval from abysmal depths of some Titanic force of pre-historic ages; here, in earshot of the 'willow-trimmed' Chattahoochee, described by our own Sidney Lanier as 'springing in the hills of Habersham, and shouting through the valleys of Hall,' as on it flows upon our western border 'mild banks of blue flowers and springing ferns on its 'eternal journey' to the Mexican sea.

"Then, gentlemen, I bespeak the sentiments not only of my profession, but of my state, when I say we rejoice at the gathering in our midst of this distinguished body of medical savants coming, as you do, from no pent-up Union, but every part of this great nation, 'from the slopes of the sea that sleeps, to the banks of the sea that wilds; from all sections of this boundless continent, composed of two scores and more sovereign states, 'distinct as the billows, one as the sea.' We recall your former convention in our midst, and the faces of those who, having served their day and generation, have passed to a higher state of existence, and today, 'They rule our spirits from their urns.'

Progress of Medical Science.

"In the meantime our profession has grown apace in all its branches. I do not exaggerate when I say that from the golden age of Ptolemy, when physicians wrestled with that fearful plague which almost decimated Athens, until the days of Benjamin Rush, when the mercenary and the lancet constituted the chief element of our materia medica, there was less advancement in the science of medicine than for the past half century; what the progress of another decade will be, the wisest of our number is unable to predict.

"Organization with its concomitant influences has enhanced our achievements. The special work of individuals upon special lines has perhaps contributed more than ought else to an advancement and accomplishment. What political economy since the days of Adam Smith has contributed more than ought else to the advancement of the human race? Indeed, the steam engine would never have materialized but for the conjoined and consecutive efforts of Watt and Stephenson, the cotton gin of Eli Whitney, the spinning wheel of Arkwright; the ocean steamship would never have been perfected but for this 'division of labor.' What is said of the mechanical holds true of the higher arts. When Galvani touched with a wire connecting a zinc and a copper plate the muscles of a dead frog came to life, and he discovered the electric current. Indeed, gentlemen, I would still like a pall over humanity.

Pasteur and Crawford Long.

"Pasteur has thus been enabled to counteract the subtle venom of the rabid dog. Lister has discovered antiseptics and thus almost revolutionized surgery, and our own Crawford Long discovered the anesthetic which has made the capital operations of surgery painless to the sufferer. Marion Simms applied silver suture and thus instituted a 'fastidious' surgery. Indeed, gentlemen, I would still like a pall over humanity.

FACE, Libra.

discoveries and applications of specialists in special lines which have given to medicine and to surgery the certitude of the exact sciences.

"You gentlemen have come to further advance in your special sections the principles which these pioneers promulgated, and they builded wiser than they knew. In behalf, then, of my profession I bid you greeting. Here, on this typical southern May day, 'neath as lovely a sky as ever blessed the vision of Mantuan bard, in a veritable atmosphere of hospitality, as bright as our sunshine, and as sweet as the breath of the roses which bloom in should be the occasion of prayer and profound concern to all classes of people. While the reverend and distinguished gentleman did not mention it specifically in his prayer, I think in his spoken aspiration to the hereafter he voiced the silent longing of this vast audience for a resting place in some better country where the doctors cease from troubling and the lancet is at rest.

"Dr. Ridley has spoken the professional welcome of the city and the state. I speak for the helpless multitude—the outsiders—your victims—why languish under your lancets, and are ridden by your horrid toms, drew the drapery of his couch about him and lay down beside them in placid safety to pleasant dreams.

"Our doctors here are almost without exception millionaires. They practice only on the stranger within our gates. They live in stately mansions, drive in splendid carriages, and spend their time in thumping the soundest of 'livers,' and in feeling the steepest pulses that ever beat in union with the hope and progress of the healthiest and bravest city in the south.

"There is not in all the world a better place for a doctor's holiday. Here you may lie down in peace to pleasant slumbers, and not a wave of trouble roll across your peaceful breasts.

"But let me say in serious measure, that the city for which I speak is set in its very shape and structure to the end of hospitality. Its four great thoroughfares point the compass. Within their wide and generous angles they sweep all sections of the republic. In their steady growth from center to suburb they have consciously or unconsciously assumed the shape of four extended arms, and these arms are now and always have been wide stretched in welcome to the world.

"Atlanta is nature's city of conventions, framed for hospitality by its parts, its purpose and its generous soul. And the year behind us has been rich in accepted opportunity. Within the last two months of 1895 we banqueted around our social boards the great associations of twenty-six states, the governors and their state-house officers of twenty states, the mayors and municipal governments of the fifty representative cities of America. Around the hospitable mahogany of this new capital of the south that has risen like a phoenix from the ashes of the old, friendships have been formed, and sentiments of fellowship have been pledged that will be redeemed in the fulness of fraternity which you shall march with locked arms through the stately stretches of our common and glorious future.

"We make a new bond with this great convention, in the long visit of conventions which have met within our gates, not one has had a heartier welcome than we give to you. In peace, in sickness, in health, your great profession has been the healing and the solace of the world. In all this stately city, and all this sovereign state, there is no home into which in some hour of gloom and sadness the physician has not come like incarnate comfort to the heart of grief. And the flush and glow of rosy health it is a poor heart which does not in memory go backward from the sunshine to the somber shadows through which you moved in healing, like the benediction of the Lord. Next to the ministers of Almighty God, and linked in holy union with their blessed work, we hold here the mission and the record of your service to mankind. And with all our hearts, we give you greeting.

"No other assembly could be more grateful to the heart and judgment of Atlanta. No greeting given to commercial convocations, no demonstration over literary lions, no glare and stir of bugles over military politicians shall vie in sincerity with the heartfelt greeting which we give to you.

"Turn your stethoscopes upon us: level your Roentgen cathode rays, pop us with the Roentgen rays of all intuitions, and you will find that Atlanta—city of the conventions—abating no jot or tittle of the sincerity of any past profession—has held with the heartfelt greeting which we give to you.

"The Infamous Appendix." "In the very desperation of their illness, our physicians have been forced to forage. In the poverty of actual causes, they have reached down into the sacred recesses of the human abdomen, and dragged to the unwilling light a useless, obscure and infamous 'appendix' on which to exercise their leisure and vindicate their skill. When the yellow scourge visited our southern coasts, this city of salubrious and Westmoreland I, the distinguished father of the brilliant son-radiant, with confidence in this higher air, threw open his office to every suspicious case, and administering to their earlier symp-plis, I thank heaven that we have corralled you at last within the prison of our hospitality. You are harmless here. The geographical limit of your licenses has expired and the city is safe. If we should reach the legal ban—if we should turn loose a thousand doctors on this helpless town—if we should add to the eager skill of our own professionals, the expert genius of this great convention, there is nothing here for them to do. In the ether of this incomparable air, and under the blue of these cloudless skies, there is never an ailment that an old woman's nostrils wouldn't cure.

"Atlanta is proud beyond expression of her brilliant galaxy of physicians. We support 200 doctors in this happy town, maintain them in the most lavish splendor, and the most indolent leisure. There is nothing here for them to do. In the ether of this incomparable air, and under the blue of these cloudless skies, there is never an ailment that an old woman's nostrils wouldn't cure.

"Mr. Graves began his speech with a very pretty compliment to the speech of Dr. Ridley, who had preceded him. In the absence of Judge Van Buren, who was to respond for Georgia, Mr. Graves was hastily required to respond to that sentiment also, and he wove it in most felicitously with his answer for Atlanta, saying that in all matters of hospitality, the voice of Georgia's capital city was the voice of the state. He seemed to feel, however, that the prayer of the chaplain was especially appropriate.

"Beyond the ascription of praise to the divine power," said he, "which is always appropriate, it seems to me that the assemblage together of a thousand doctors

Scene in the Lobby of the Grand Opera House Just Before the Convention Was Called to Order.

of the Kimball house, the Hotel Aragon and at the chamber of commerce.

Convention Called to Order.

Long before the hour arrived for the big session of all the doctors in the Grand opera house and boxes began to be filled with the distinguished visitors and their wives. The visiting ladies took great interest in the proceedings and wore their prettiest gowns in honor of the occasion. Their presence added a great deal to the magnificence of the occasion, and the doctors, though always dignified, took special pains to present their appearance and to be on their best behavior.

The scene in the lobby and foyer of the theater was one of unusual bustle and activity. If one supposed that the details attending the management of a convention of over a thousand men can be easily attended to he is mistaken. There is a great deal of work to be accomplished and it can only be done by systematic and persistent effort.

The officers who attended to the registration, the receipts of dues, the signing of railroad tickets, the issuance of certificates, invitations, etc., had all that they could manage yesterday. Booths and tables were arranged in the lobby to facilitate this work and all day long they were the centers of activity.

Every comfort for the visitors had been carefully looked after by the local committee on arrangements.

The stage of the opera house was covered with ferns, palms and evergreens and looked like a beautiful flower garden.

Dr. R. Beverly Cole, of California, stepped forward for a few minutes before 11 o'clock. He invited all the presidents of the association and leading officers of other medical associations to seats on the stage and soon many of the most distinguished physicians and surgeons in the city were grouped around President Cole on the platform.

The exercises were opened by a fervent prayer by Dr. Henry McDonald.

An Eloquent Address of Welcome.

Dr. Frank M. Ridley, of LaGrange, was then introduced and he eloquently delivered an address of welcome.

"President and Gentlemen of the American Medical Association: I would confess that I am profoundly sensible of the distinction conferred upon me by my professional brethren which places me here. Aside from an apprehension of my fitness to properly perform the task, it would be a labor of love to extend to you their greetings.

"Such a welcome comes not alone from this fair city, which is the pride and marvel of us all, but from the great heart of this great commonwealth, stretching as it does from the sunlit summit of Lookout to the white sands of our coast.

"Founded in the wisdom and generosity of Oglethorpe, it was the youngest and most progressive of our cities, and it was by their combined efforts that the yoke of British domination on the plains of Yorktown. Not only so, but by the aid of the brave and noble men of the South, it was that great universal emancipation, and which today, it may be, is thundering at the gates of Morocco under the banner of liberty-seeking Cuba from the distress and the Spanish thralldom. In the meantime Georgia has grown to such proportions as to be recognized as no dubious sense as the Empire State of the South.

"Here, then, gentlemen, in this capital of the Empire State, I bid you greet: here under the shadow of Stone Mountain, that huge boulder upheaval from abysmal depths of some Titanic force of pre-historic ages; here, in earshot of the 'willow-trimmed' Chattahoochee, described by our own Sidney Lanier as 'springing in the hills of Habersham, and shouting through the valleys of Hall,' as on it flows upon our western border 'mild banks of blue flowers and springing ferns on its 'eternal journey' to the Mexican sea.

"Then, gentlemen, I bespeak the sentiments not only of my profession, but of my state, when I say we rejoice at the gathering in our midst of this distinguished body of medical savants coming, as you do, from no pent-up Union, but every part of this great nation, 'from the slopes of the sea that sleeps, to the banks of the sea that wilds; from all sections of this boundless continent, composed of two scores and more sovereign states, 'distinct as the billows, one as the sea.' We recall your former convention in our midst, and the faces of those who, having served their day and generation, have passed to a higher state of existence, and today, 'They rule our spirits from their urns.'

Progress of Medical Science.

"In the meantime our profession has grown apace in all its branches. I do not exaggerate when I say that from the golden age of Ptolemy, when physicians wrestled with that fearful plague which almost decimated Athens, until the days of Benjamin Rush, when the mercenary and the lancet constituted the chief element of our materia medica, there was less advancement in the science of medicine than for the past half century; what the progress of another decade will be, the wisest of our number is unable to predict.

"Organization with its concomitant influences has enhanced our achievements. The special work of individuals upon special lines has perhaps contributed more than ought else to an advancement and accomplishment. What political economy since the days of Adam Smith has contributed more than ought else to the advancement of the human race? Indeed, the steam engine would never have materialized but for the conjoined and consecutive efforts of Watt and Stephenson, the cotton gin of Eli Whitney, the spinning wheel of Arkwright; the ocean steamship would never have been perfected but for this 'division of labor.' What is said of the mechanical holds true of the higher arts. When Galvani touched with a wire connecting a zinc and a copper plate the muscles of a dead frog came to life, and he discovered the electric current. Indeed, gentlemen, I would still like a pall over humanity.

Pasteur and Crawford Long.

"Pasteur has thus been enabled to counteract the subtle venom of the rabid dog. Lister has discovered antiseptics and thus almost revolutionized surgery, and our own Crawford Long discovered the anesthetic which has made the capital operations of surgery painless to the sufferer. Marion Simms applied silver suture and thus instituted a 'fastidious' surgery. Indeed, gentlemen, I would still like a pall over humanity.

FACE, Libra.

discoveries and applications of specialists in special lines which have given to medicine and to surgery the certitude of the exact sciences.

Convention Called to Order.

Long before the hour arrived for the big session of all the doctors in the Grand opera house and boxes began to be filled with the distinguished visitors and their wives. The visiting ladies took great interest in the proceedings and wore their prettiest gowns in honor of the occasion. Their presence added a great deal to the magnificence of the occasion, and the doctors, though always dignified, took special pains to present their appearance and to be on their best behavior.

The scene in the lobby and foyer of the theater was one of unusual bustle and activity. If one supposed that the details attending the management of a convention of over a thousand men can be easily attended to he is mistaken. There is a great deal of work to be accomplished and it can only be done by systematic and persistent effort.

The officers who attended to the registration, the receipts of dues, the signing of railroad tickets, the issuance of certificates, invitations, etc., had all that they could manage yesterday. Booths and tables were arranged in the lobby to facilitate this work and all day long they were the centers of activity.

Every comfort for the visitors had been carefully looked after by the local committee on arrangements.

The stage of the opera house was covered with ferns, palms and evergreens and looked like a beautiful flower garden.

Dr. R. Beverly Cole, of California, stepped forward for a few minutes before 11 o'clock. He invited all the presidents of the association and leading officers of other medical associations to seats on the stage and soon many of the most distinguished physicians and surgeons in the city were grouped around President Cole on the platform.

The exercises were opened by a fervent prayer by Dr. Henry McDonald.

An Eloquent Address of Welcome.

Dr. Frank M. Ridley, of LaGrange, was then introduced and he eloquently delivered an address of welcome.

"President and Gentlemen of the American Medical Association: I would confess that I am profoundly sensible of the distinction conferred upon me by my professional brethren which places me here. Aside from an apprehension of my fitness to properly perform the task, it would be a labor of love to extend to you their greetings.

"Such a welcome comes not alone from this fair city, which is the pride and marvel of us all, but from the great heart of this great commonwealth, stretching as it does from the sunlit summit of Lookout to the white sands of our coast.

"Founded in the wisdom and generosity of Oglethorpe, it was the youngest and most progressive of our cities, and it was by their combined efforts that the yoke of British domination on the plains of Yorktown. Not only so, but by the aid of the brave and noble men of the South, it was that great universal emancipation, and which today, it may be, is thundering at the gates of Morocco under the banner of liberty-seeking Cuba from the distress and the Spanish thralldom. In the meantime Georgia has grown to such proportions as to be recognized as no dubious sense as the Empire State of the South.

"Here, then, gentlemen, in this capital of the Empire State, I bid you greet: here under the shadow of Stone Mountain, that huge boulder upheaval from abysmal depths of some Titanic force of pre-historic ages; here, in earshot of the 'willow-trimmed' Chattahoochee, described by our own Sidney Lanier as 'springing in the hills of Habersham, and shouting through the valleys of Hall,' as on it flows upon our western border 'mild banks of blue flowers and springing ferns on its 'eternal journey' to the Mexican sea.

"Then, gentlemen, I bespeak the sentiments not only of my profession, but of my state, when I say we rejoice at the gathering in our midst of this distinguished body of medical savants coming, as you do, from no pent-up Union, but every part of this great nation, 'from the slopes of the sea that sleeps, to the banks of the sea that wilds; from all sections of this boundless continent, composed of two scores and more sovereign states, 'distinct as the billows, one as the sea.' We recall your former convention in our midst, and the faces of those who, having served their day and generation, have passed to a higher state of existence, and today, 'They rule our spirits from their urns.'

Progress of Medical Science.

"In the meantime our profession has grown apace in all its branches. I do not exaggerate when I say that from the golden age of Ptolemy, when physicians wrestled with that fearful plague which almost decimated Athens, until the days of Benjamin Rush, when the mercenary and the lancet constituted the chief element of our materia medica, there was less advancement in the science of medicine than for the past half century; what the progress of another decade will be, the wisest of our number is unable to predict.

"Organization with its concomitant influences has enhanced our achievements. The special work of individuals upon special lines has perhaps contributed more than ought else to an advancement and accomplishment. What political economy since the days of Adam Smith has contributed more than ought else to the advancement of the human race? Indeed, the steam engine would never have materialized but for the conjoined and consecutive efforts of Watt and Stephenson, the cotton gin of Eli Whitney, the spinning wheel of Arkwright; the ocean steamship would never have been perfected but for this 'division of labor.' What is said of the mechanical holds true of the higher arts. When Galvani touched with a wire connecting a zinc and a copper plate the muscles of a dead frog came to life, and he discovered the electric current. Indeed, gentlemen, I would still like a pall over humanity.

Pasteur and Crawford Long.

"Pasteur has thus been enabled to counteract the subtle venom of the rabid dog. Lister has discovered antiseptics and thus almost revolutionized surgery, and our own Crawford Long discovered the anesthetic which has made the capital operations of surgery painless to the sufferer. Marion Simms applied silver suture and thus instituted a 'fastidious' surgery. Indeed, gentlemen, I would still like a pall over humanity.

FACE, Libra.

There was never a halt in his smooth sentences and rounded periods.

The President's Address.

President Beverly Cole then delivered his annual address. It was a thoroughly interesting paper of 3,000 words, dealing with the year's work in medical science generally and the work of the great association, of which he is the head, individually. Dr. Cole's address brought forth frequent applause from the immense audience, which filled every seat in the Grand opera house, and it was clear that the thoughts advanced by the learned doctor were thoroughly appreciated.

Dr. Cole referred to the great work of the association since the day it was organized in Philadelphia forty-nine years ago. He said that he was elected as first vice president of the American Medical Association in Atlanta seventeen years ago and that it was appropriate that he should round out his career as president in that term, in Atlanta. He said that he was astonished at the growth of Atlanta during

Atlanta's Warm Welcome.

"Atlanta is nature's city of conventions, framed for hospitality by its parts, its purpose and its generous soul. And the year behind us has been rich in accepted opportunity. Within the last two months of 1895 we banqueted around our social boards the great associations of twenty-six states, the governors and their state-house officers of twenty states, the mayors and municipal governments of the fifty representative cities of America. Around the hospitable mahogany of this new capital of the south that has risen like a phoenix from the ashes of the old, friendships have been formed, and sentiments of fellowship have been pledged that will be redeemed in the fulness of fraternity which you shall march with locked arms through the stately stretches of our common and glorious future.

"We make a new bond with this great convention, in the long visit of conventions which have met within our gates, not one has had a heartier welcome than we give to you. In peace, in sickness, in health, your great profession has been the healing and the solace of the world. In all this stately city, and all this sovereign state, there is no home into which in some hour of gloom and sadness the physician has not come like incarnate comfort to the heart of grief. And the flush and glow of rosy health it is a poor heart which does not in memory go backward from the sunshine to the somber shadows through which you moved in healing, like the benediction of the Lord. Next to the ministers of Almighty God, and linked in holy union with their blessed work, we hold here the mission and the record of your service to mankind. And with all our hearts, we give you greeting.

"No other assembly could be more grateful to the heart and judgment of Atlanta. No greeting given to commercial convocations, no demonstration over literary lions, no glare and stir of bugles over military politicians shall vie in sincerity with the heartfelt greeting which we give to you.

"The Infamous Appendix." "In the very desperation of their illness, our physicians have been forced to forage. In the poverty of actual causes, they have reached down into the sacred recesses of the human abdomen, and dragged to the unwilling light a useless, obscure and infamous 'appendix' on which to exercise their leisure and vindicate their skill. When the yellow scourge visited our southern coasts, this city of salubrious and Westmoreland I, the distinguished father of the brilliant son-radiant, with confidence in this higher air, threw open his office to every suspicious case, and administering to their earlier symp-

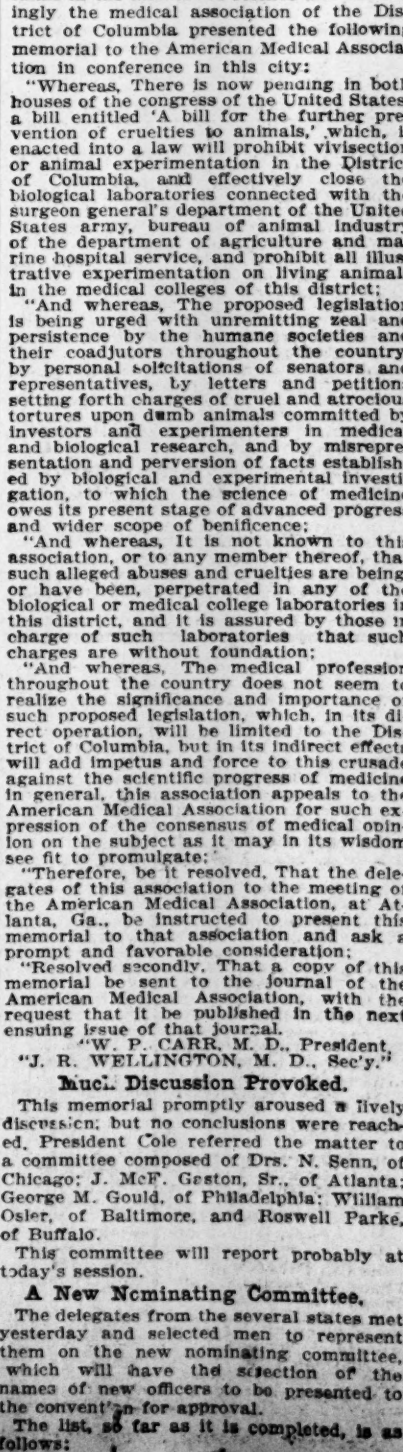

plis, I thank heaven that we have corralled you at last within the prison of our hospitality. You are harmless here. The geographical limit of your licenses has expired and the city is safe. If we should reach the legal ban—if we should turn loose a thousand doctors on this helpless town—if we should add to the eager skill of our own professionals, the expert genius of this great convention, there is nothing here for them to do. In the ether of this incomparable air, and under the blue of these cloudless skies, there is never an ailment that an old woman's nostrils wouldn't cure.

"Atlanta is proud beyond expression of her brilliant galaxy of physicians. We support 200 doctors in this happy town, maintain them in the most lavish splendor, and the most indolent leisure. There is nothing here for them to do. In the ether of this incomparable air, and under the blue of these cloudless skies, there is never an ailment that an old woman's nostrils wouldn't cure.

"Mr. Graves began his speech with a very pretty compliment to the speech of Dr. Ridley, who had preceded him. In the absence of Judge Van Buren, who was to respond for Georgia, Mr. Graves was hastily required to respond to that sentiment also, and he wove it in most felicitously with his answer for Atlanta, saying that in all matters of hospitality, the voice of Georgia's capital city was the voice of the state. He seemed to feel, however, that the prayer of the chaplain was especially appropriate.

"Beyond the ascription of praise to the divine power," said he, "which is always appropriate, it seems to me that the assemblage together of a thousand doctors

Scene in the Lobby of the Grand Opera House Just Before the Convention Was Called to Order.

There was never a halt in his smooth sentences and rounded periods.

The President's Address.

President Beverly Cole then delivered his annual address. It was a thoroughly interesting paper of 3,000 words, dealing with the year's work in medical science generally and the work of the great association, of which he is the head, individually. Dr. Cole's address brought forth frequent applause from the immense audience, which filled every seat in the Grand opera house, and it was clear that the thoughts advanced by the learned doctor were thoroughly appreciated.

Dr. Cole referred to the great work of the association since the day it was organized in Philadelphia forty-nine years ago. He said that he was elected as first vice president of the American Medical Association in Atlanta seventeen years ago and that it was appropriate that he should round out his career as president in that term, in Atlanta. He said that he was astonished at the growth of Atlanta during

Atlanta's Warm Welcome.

"Atlanta is nature's city of conventions, framed for hospitality by its parts, its purpose and its generous soul. And the year behind us has been rich in accepted opportunity. Within the last two months of 1895 we banqueted around our social boards the great associations of twenty-six states, the governors and their state-house officers of twenty states, the mayors and municipal governments of the fifty representative cities of America. Around the hospitable mahogany of this new capital of the south that has risen like a phoenix from the ashes of the old, friendships have been formed, and sentiments of fellowship have been pledged that will be redeemed in the fulness of fraternity which you shall march with locked arms through the stately stretches of our common and glorious future.

"We make a new bond with this great convention, in the long visit of conventions which have met within our gates, not one has had a heartier welcome than we give to you. In peace, in sickness, in health, your great profession has been the healing and the solace of the world. In all this stately city, and all this sovereign state, there is no home into which in some hour of gloom and sadness the physician has not come like incarnate comfort to the heart of grief. And the flush and glow of rosy health it is a poor heart which does not in memory go backward from the sunshine to the somber shadows through which you moved in healing, like the benediction of the Lord. Next to the ministers of Almighty God, and linked in holy union with their blessed work, we hold here the mission and the record of your service to mankind. And with all our hearts, we give you greeting.

"No other assembly could be more grateful to the heart and judgment of Atlanta. No greeting given to commercial convocations, no demonstration over literary lions, no glare and stir of bugles over military politicians shall vie in sincerity with the heartfelt greeting which we give to you.

"The Infamous Appendix." "In the very desperation of their illness, our physicians have been forced to forage. In the poverty of actual causes, they have reached down into the sacred recesses of the human abdomen, and

The Constitution.

PUBLISHED DAILY, SUNDAY, WEEKLY.

The Daily (with Sunday) per year $5.00
 The Daily (without Sunday) per year $4.00
 The Sunday Edition (20 to 30 pages) $2.00
 The Weekly $1.00
 Postage paid to all addresses.
 At these reduced rates all subscriptions must be paid in advance.
 We do not undertake to return rejected MSS., and will not do so unless accompanied by return postage.

Where To Find The Constitution.

The Constitution can be found on sale at the following places:
 WASHINGTON—Metropolitan Hotel.
 JACKSONVILLE—H. Drew & Bro.
 CINCINNATI—J. R. Hawley, 162 Vine St.
 NEW YORK—Brentano's, corner Broadway and Sixth Street.
 CHICAGO—P. O. News Company, 31 Adams Street; Great Northern Hotel.
 DENVER, COLO.—Hamilton & Kendrick.
 PENSACOLA, FLA.—Pensacola Drug Store.
 HOUSTON, TEX.—Dottler Bros.
 KANSAS CITY, MO.—Van Nooy Bros.

Notice to Subscribers.

Do not pay the carriers. We have regular collectors in the city—Messrs. Charles H. Donnell, R. L. Cannon and G. W. Tasker. The traveling representatives of The Constitution are Messrs. William M. Kersh, W. H. Overby and L. B. Wilcox.

NICHOLS & HOLLIDAY, Constitution Building, sole advertising managers for all territory outside of Atlanta.

12 PAGES.

ATLANTA, GA., May 6, 1896.

Doctor!

The Constitution will contain, from day to day, full reports of the various departments of the great medical convention being held in this city.

By handing in the addresses of friends to whom you wish to send the paper, it will be mailed in wrappers, postpaid, for 5 cents per copy, or until the day of adjournment for 25 cents.

A Last Appeal.

The manner in which the people have stood together in the successful working out of any and every problem that has confronted the city in the past has made Atlanta the envy of her neighbors and has been the most potent factor in placing her at the head of the list of southern cities.

Many notable achievements stand to the credit of the "Atlanta spirit." One of the greatest of these was the magnificent international exposition, the good results from which will be felt for years to come. Much good has already been done by that exposition; much more will doubtless follow; but without one more display of this Atlanta spirit the full benefits of that enterprise may not be achieved. And this display must come at once.

Tomorrow is the date fixed for the sale of the buildings at the exposition grounds. There is no escaping the sale. The question is, who will purchase these buildings and to what use will they be put? There can be but one of two purchasers—one who will take them for the lumber that is in them; the other a citizen or body of citizens whose purchase will be for the purpose of keeping the buildings intact and holding them for use at some future exposition.

There can be no question as to which of these alternatives is the better one for Atlanta. The Constitution has pointed out the importance to the city of securing these buildings and holding them for the future. We call attention once more to this, and in doing so, make a last appeal to the business men and citizens generally to save the buildings.

Put up at auction these buildings are sure to go for a mere song. As they stand they represent an investment of between $250,000 and $300,000. They are substantial and for exposition purposes they will doubtless be approximately as good five years from now as they are today. For any other than exposition purposes, however, they represent only the value of the second-hand lumber that is in them. For the reasons pointed out they can hardly bring as much as $15,000 at the sale tomorrow. The terms require that they be moved before July 1st next.

A plain business proposition presents itself. It is possible for the business men of Atlanta to secure these buildings by an outlay which, when compared to the benefits to be derived, is infinitesimal. Satisfactory arrangements can be made with the owners of the grounds so that in a few years, when the conditions warrant it, Atlanta can again show to the world the resources of this state and section. There can be no question of the great value of such expositions to Atlanta and to the south. The opportunity of paving the way for another, and at comparatively little cost, now presents itself. To the business men of Atlanta we say: Surely you will not stand by and let this opportunity slip away. This is a matter of vital interest to you and to the city. Get together and devise some plan to save the buildings.

It is to Atlanta's interest that you act promptly.

Rich England.

We print in another column an article contributed to The Chicago Inter-Ocean by Mr. Henry G. Miller on the enrichment of England at the expense of the people of the United States.

Our readers will no doubt remember the recent announcements from London setting forth the gratifying condition of the British treasury. The gold hoards hang high in that country. The English exceeded expenditures, the treasury is full, and counsels have gone up in the market to a point as high as they have reached in many long years.

When all this was printed the organs of the money power pointed with pride to what England has done and is doing under the single gold standard. Everything is lovely in that country except for the agriculturists and the cotton manufacturers. But what does the showing amount to? Simply this, that England knows her interests and maintains them. Being a creditor country, it is to her interest that silver should be demonetized and the value of gold increased. By the simple method of bringing about the demonetization of silver in the United States in 1873, and the closing of the Indian mints to silver in 1893, England has doubled the value of all the debts due her people by foreign creditors, and cut down the price of every article of food and clothing that her pauper laborers are compelled to buy.

There can be no doubt that the single gold standard is a good thing for England at this juncture. There is no doubt about that. But there is about the fact that it is a bad thing for the American people; that it impoverishes every interest except that of the bondholders and big bankers.

Mr. Miller puts the case very strongly, and we commend his article to those of our readers who are studying this important question so as to form their own opinions.

A Michigan Editor Writes a Letter.

The Press is the name of a newspaper published at Adrian, Mich. Mr. Calvin Tompkins, chairman of the bribery committee of the William and Wall Street Reform Club, in pursuing his celebrated policy of trying to bribe country newspapers with pewter plate arguments in favor of the British gold standard, sent one of his eloquent treasurers to Mr. W. Stearns, editor of The Adrian Press.

Mr. Tompkins, of the Wall and William Street Pot-metal Bribery Club, remarked to Mr. Stearns in his letter that he would furnish The Press free, every four weeks, a page of pot metal matter, and 1,000 supplements, "being broad-sides" for "sound currency." It would be interesting to know just how many editors in the country have responded to the glittering offer of the able Mr. Tompkins to purchase them with a page of pot metal "every four weeks."

The Adrian Press, of Michigan, however, is not among the number. The editor, Mr. Stearns, wrote a very polite reply to the pot-metalist reformer, in which he said that he was heartily in favor of a sound currency. Editor Stearns wrote:

The great business interests of the country demand that we not only have a sound currency, but that we have a reliable and anti-monopoly currency, ample in quantity and uniform in quality, with power to pay any debt of the country at any time, and any place, to any person, for anything—a currency that is as good in a farmer's hands as in a banker's, a currency so sound that it will pay a bond or pension, a mortgage or a month's wages, and one that cannot be placed at a premium in order that it may be used for speculation or in exchange for any other currency.

The editor of The Press then goes on to say that he wants an honest currency, and he thus describes it:

We want an honest currency, one that will pay the wage-earner and the interest on the bondholder, one that the United States alone issues and fathers; one that will fight our battles or buy our wheat; one as good in the hands of the poor as in the hands of the rich; one that will pay the foreign trade as well as for those who buy the bonds and stock of the country.

We need a currency so sound that no combine of financial thieves can organize a raid on the treasury and embarrass it in its dealings with the business interests of the country, in order that the currency they hold may be turned into an interest-bearing deposit.

We need a sound currency, that will admit of no juggling, nor compel the United States to keep on hand a hundred million dollars in any kind of a currency to accommodate a class of men who make their living by raids on the currency reserve, not because they need one kind of money more than another, but simply to make trouble.

This is so very much to the point that we have no doubt that Tompkins, the pot-metalist reformer, felt grieved when he read it. Editor Stearns then informs the pot-metalist that a perusal of the Deform Club's pewter editorials shows that Tompkins is masquerading under false colors—that he is "advocating the only dishonest money known." To this Editor Stearns adds the following sound advice:

Now, sir, I suggest that you reform at once. Adopt honest methods. Men have been sent to prison for less than your "reform" proposition to me. I am a poor man. I know I know your kind and have been taught politically that bribery is a crime. I am not willing to sell out my views to a rich syndicate and add to the burden of the press of the country. You can purchase my plant, but not my ideas or my views. You cannot furnish gold enough to get your plate of pot metal in my paper, either.

The Press is for sound currency, one that is good for all classes at all times; a currency of the United States and good for the world.

It is for the free coinage of silver as an honest and sound currency, and to place the law of 1873 back on our statute books should be the first duty of every true, loyal citizen.

The enemy of silver is the enemy of his country.

The man who attempted to disrupt the country is no more a traitor than he who disrupted our currency, or who opposes its restoration.

I am fully able to write my own editorials and express my own views.

low republican doctrine and indorse the robber dollar.

Business Men in Politics.

The Chicago Times-Herald declares that one of the most pressing needs of American politics is the sound, practical judgment of experienced business men. Several days ago this leading journal of the northwest urged upon the Chicago board of trade the importance of calling a convention of the business men of the nation for the purpose of arousing a deeper interest in the questions which will be discussed at the approaching political conventions and also for the purpose of inducing business men to engage more actively in political affairs.

As a reason for this urgent appeal to the Chicago board of trade The Times-Herald argued that the day for discussing great moral and constitutional questions had passed and that important business and financial problems were now before the people of the country for solution.

Discussing the proposition still further the paper continued:

The first and principal question is, what kind of money ought we to have? The second is, by what legislation can we protect the national business interests? Upon these issues there ought to be an impartial expression by the business men and commercial organizations of the whole country.

There can be no denial of the fact that business men are fully competent to legislate on all the important financial questions of the day, and the fact that a greater number of business men are not engaged in politics, using that term in its broadest and best sense, is very much to be regretted.

Business men, as a rule, have been disposed to look upon politics as demoralizing and have preferred to pursue the even tenor of their way, leaving the political arena almost exclusively in possession of the legal talent of the land.

But the time is ripe for the business man to emerge from his retirement and to impress his views upon the statutes of the country, both state and national. It is gratifying to observe that while the number of business men in politics is still small, this number is steadily increasing and that much good has already been derived from those who have given to the country the benefit of their wise and practical experience in the varied lines of business.

The talents of the lawyer are not to be depreciated, but these, however marked or brilliant, do not capacitate him for all the duties and requirements of legislation in this commercial day and time. Legislation, at the present day, calls for the resources of the lawyer, the merchant and the laboring man, and with this combination of ideas brought to bear upon the political questions which are agitating the American people, the result would be a code of laws which would insure unbroken national prosperity.

Here It Is.

We clip the following from our esteemed gold standard contemporary, The Columbus Enquirer-Sun:

Can The Constitution show that the opponents of free silver currency object to a vote from the people? All this talk about a senator, but they want a full vote, and given any intimation that it will not favor an October primary, unless it is those that have ordered a vote in June. Some have ordered primaries for other purposes at an earlier date, but these have no intention of disfranchising the people on the senatorial question. This talk about muzzling and disfranchising is simply rot. The sound money men in Europe are more than willing for the people to vote for a senator, but they want a full vote, and want the people to know before they vote just what the platform of their party is.

Well, here is a while, while the resolution adopted by the executive committee of Mr. Turner's home county—Brooks?—the county, by the way, from which the present able editor of The Enquirer-Sun went to Muscovy. For fear that this interesting declaration of Mr. Turner's home county may not have attracted the attention of our esteemed Columbus contemporary, we reproduce it herewith as follows:

We are opposed to voting in primary for United States senator as contrary to the spirit of the constitution and democratic usages.

Now, if this is not an explicit answer to your question, good neighbor, do us the kindness to drop us a line and we will give you a number of instances where counties under the control of gold standard committees have positively and pointedly refused to submit the senatorial question to the vote of the people. In this connection it is worthy of note that not a single county committee whose members favor a return to democratic principles on the currency—the position once held by Mr. Turner and others who, for reasons satisfactory to themselves, repudiated their record of a lifetime in the twinkling of an eye—has refused to leave to the people the right to express their preference for senator.

No, dear neighbor, "all this talk about muzzling and disfranchising" is not "simply rot." It is a true bill and Mr. Turner's own county has returned a verdict of guilty.

Persia's Relation to England.

Persia is still a century behind in the progressive march of civilization.

Though endowed with vast material resources which have made the wealth of that empire proverbial, the country itself is steeped in the horrors of a government which is but a step removed from the cruel despotism of the Turks.

From the tone of recent dispatches Persia is in a most deplorable condition, and the shuddering prospect of a reign of bloodshed is before the inhabitants of that empire.

The cause of this unhappy condition of things in Persia is interesting to Americans, as well as to Europeans, since the national problem is one which involves both Russia and England, two of the greatest powers of Christendom.

By reason of Persia's geographical position the control of that empire is important to each of these European nations, as it forms the gateway, so to speak, into vast imperial possessions which belong to them in Asia.

The late shah, who was cruelly assassinated only a few days ago at the instigation of the Persian clergy, became so of the manner in which he had trampled upon the home religion, lacked much of being a model ruler; and while he was fond of European travel he was in league with neither Russia nor England.

Though his death was brought about by the opposition which he aroused among the clergy, his own sons took part in the conspiracy which was organized for this purpose.

The eldest of these, whose title to the throne was set aside because of the blood which flowed in his mother's veins, is known to favor England and to be the choice of that country in the matter of succession.

However, the second brother, whose blood is royal on both sides of the house, has been proclaimed shah of Persia with all the rights and privileges pertaining to that sovereign office. The new shah is the choice of Russia and for that reason is not looked upon with favor by the jealous eye of England.

If England decides to insist upon the recognition of the eldest son of the late shah there is apt to be a serious complication. With the vigorous foreign policy which that country has adopted it is not likely that she will passively yield her Persian interests without having something more to say on the subject.

In the meantime the life of the eldest son of the late shah is in extreme peril. Among eastern monarchs, especially those who are saturated with the Mohammedan religion, there is no hesitation about putting the tragic seal of death upon the aspirations of rival claimants.

Such is the deplorable condition of affairs in Persia at the close of the nineteenth century. After the lapse of nearly two thousand years she is still shrouded in a veil of darkness on which the light of the Christian era has not yet dawned.

A Distinguished Financier.

Seldom is the death of a quiet business man a matter of such national regret as that of the late George S. Coe, who, for nearly thirty-five years presided over the affairs of the American Exchange bank, of New York.

By reason of his shrewd business talent this distinguished financier was not only able to accumulate a large private fortune, ranging far up into the millions, but likewise succeeded in leaving the imprint of his genius upon the banking institutions of the United States.

Perhaps no man was more thoroughly identified with the literature of banking than Mr. Coe. His pen was the graceful servant of a vigorous and well-stored intellect, and his articles were eagerly devoured by all the bankers and substantial business men of New York and the various other leading commercial centers of the land.

Mr. Coe devised the system of issuing clearing house certificates, and by reason of this convenient method of raising large sums of money the banks of New York, Boston and Philadelphia were able to furnish the sum of $5,000,000 for the purchase of treasury notes in 1861.

This method was again most effectively employed during the frightful panic of 1873, and has ever since been regarded as one of the most salutary features of the American banking system.

As the author of the clearing house certificates Mr. Coe will long be remembered.

All Difficulties Adjusted.

The compromise which has been agreed upon between the residents of Capitol avenue and the officers of the Consolidated Street Railway Company terminates a dispute of long standing and gives entire satisfaction to all parties concerned.

For a while it seemed as if the parties to this unfortunate dispute would never be able to adjust the difficulties in which they had become involved and that Atlanta, by reason of this serious rupture between a large body of her citizens and one of her chartered corporations, would sustain severe injuries from which it would take months to recover.

Happily for the domestic welfare of her people and for the reputation which she has heretofore enjoyed this threatening disaster has been averted and the spirit of brotherly love continues.

Atlanta should be too intent upon her high mission to idle away her time in such a manner as recent events have pointed out. Internal disputes and disagreements only stop the chariot wheels of progress, while the united efforts of all her citizens, if combined with patriotic perseverance, will place her at the head of the south's great industrial march.

Busy Republican Organs.

The republican editors of the country, both great and small, are now engaged in the most interesting effort of their lives. They are ardently striving, by means of persuasion, argumentation and tabulation to convince the "emancipated" that they ought to indorse the single gold standard, and nominate Mr. Cleveland for a third term.

Some of these republican editors do not stop at persuasion and argumentation, but go so far as to insist that the democrats shall nominate Mr. Cleveland on a gold standard platform. The only modification of this demand that some of them make is to consent to substitute Mr. Carlisle for Mr. Cleveland in the event that the latter refuses to allow the use of his "consecrated" name.

This is something of a new departure for the republican editors, and it is a very interesting phase of an exceedingly interesting situation. And yet, while it is unusual for the organs of republicanism to prepare a platform and name a candidate for the democrats, it cannot be denied that they are justified by the attitude of Mr. Cleveland and those who, calling themselves democrats, train with him.

Is it unnatural for the republicans to feel an interest in the success of the demonetization of silver, which they accomplished secretly and with fear and trembling? Is it unnatural that the accredited mouthpieces and spokesmen of the republican party should desire to see the democrats nominate a man who is as much of a republican as John Sherman on the financial question? We think not. On the contrary, it is perfectly natural under the circumstances, considering the tremendous issues at stake, that the leading republicans—the men who have befuddled and befuddled the people on the tariff question—should take an extreme interest in the platform to be adopted and the candidate to be nominated by the democrats. If the John Sherman democrats control the Chicago convention the leading republicans will no longer have any business as the result. They can retire to their back parlors with serene minds, confident that neither their sleeping nor their waking dreams will be disturbed by visions of the people revolting against the exactions of the robber gold dollar.

As a matter of fact, however, the real democrats of the country—the men who are standing true to party principles and the interest and welfare of the people—are demonstrating beyond all doubt or question that the honest voters of the country cannot be bought, deceived or manipulated by the agents and tools of the money power. They are demonstrating beyond all doubt or question that the Chicago convention will not be controlled by Wall street and the money power.

The agents of the bondholders are making a tremendous effort to control the convention, but they are willing to admit privately that the free coinage democrats will control the Chicago convention, make the platform and be strong enough to prevent the nomination of any man whose views are not in accord with those of the great majority of the democratic voters of the country.

Meanwhile the interest which the republican newspapers are manifesting in the platform and candidate of the democratic party shows that they are open to their eyes to the fact that a great democratic groundswell is sweeping over the country.

Our opinion is that if the gold standardists had known the real temper of the American people they would never have ventured from behind their ambulance of "international bimetalism." But, having come out, they cannot now go back.

Mr. Tom Reed will have to take up his political belly-band a notch or two. He is not the great man he thought he was.

Some fun is threatened in poor Mr. Watterson's balliwick.

Cal Brice has already given it out that his hair is red enough to compel the democrats of Ohio to indorse the gold standard. But Cal's hair has kinks in it.

It is the easiest thing in the world for a cuckoo to talk after the string is pulled in Washington.

When Judge Lawson talks about two-cent cotton it shows that he knows what the effect of the gold standard will be.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

Several months ago an Italian by the name of Quaranta was murdered near Providence, R. I. In searching through the Italian effects some time ago a book was found in which the intelligence of the Italian character. According to general belief Quaranta was a man of mystery and seemed to be under the spell of some evil influence. This book, which was found at the bottom of an old trunk, proved to be the manual of a secret society of devil worshippers.

The book was in Italian and was published anonymously. The first part of the book is devoted to a description of the manner in which the price of evil may be summoned by the use of magic. Complete rules are given, and with them the assurance that those who follow them could not fail of success. Well, here is a while, while the resolution adopted by the executive committee of Mr. Turner's home county—Brooks?—the county, by the way, from which the present able editor of The Enquirer-Sun went to Muscovy. For fear that this interesting declaration of Mr. Turner's home county may not have attracted the attention of our esteemed Columbus contemporary, we reproduce it herewith as follows:

We are opposed to voting in primary for United States senator as contrary to the spirit of the constitution and democratic usages.

Now, if this is not an explicit answer to your question, good neighbor, do us the kindness to drop us a line and we will give you a number of instances where counties under the control of gold standard committees have positively and pointedly refused to submit the senatorial question to the vote of the people. In this connection it is worthy of note that not a single county committee whose members favor a return to democratic principles on the currency—the position once held by Mr. Turner and others who, for reasons satisfactory to themselves, repudiated their record of a lifetime in the twinkling of an eye—has refused to leave to the people the right to express their preference for senator.

No, dear neighbor, "all this talk about muzzling and disfranchising" is not "simply rot." It is a true bill and Mr. Turner's own county has returned a verdict of guilty.

Persia's Relation to England.

Persia is still a century behind in the progressive march of civilization.

Though endowed with vast material resources which have made the wealth of that empire proverbial, the country itself is steeped in the horrors of a government which is but a step removed from the cruel despotism of the Turks.

From the tone of recent dispatches Persia is in a most deplorable condition, and the shuddering prospect of a reign of bloodshed is before the inhabitants of that empire.

The cause of this unhappy condition of things in Persia is interesting to Americans, as well as to Europeans, since the national problem is one which involves both Russia and England, two of the greatest powers of Christendom.

By reason of Persia's geographical position the control of that empire is important to each of these European nations, as it forms the gateway, so to speak, into vast imperial possessions which belong to them in Asia.

The late shah, who was cruelly assassinated only a few days ago at the instigation of the Persian clergy, became so of the manner in which he had trampled better soil and climates in all parts of the earth.

"This ought to be an astonishing reading for an American. We have nearly double the population of Great Britain; we have an immensely greater area of soil; we have far richer resources in coal, iron and other metals. We have a government which we maintain is much better, or, at all events, dearer to the people who live under it, than the government of Great Britain. We have no army; we have next to no navy; we have no colonies or dependencies; we have little public debt; yet we are not happy. We have over the business of the world one's eye in every newspaper; we have to borrow money at every quarter to keep our paper at par. The success of the loan is received with shouts of triumph, though while it is being raised every business man holds his breath."

What is the cause of the apparent prosperity in England and depression in the United States? It must be borne in mind that England is a creditor nation, having invested abroad amounting to over $10,000,000,000, as stated by Mr. Gladstone in his speech in the house of commons, published in The London Times, March 1, 1895, commanding foreign countries an annual tribute of not less than $500,000,000, paid to her in money, but in commodities, the prices of which are controlled by the gold standard, and over which which are paid by this country. This question is very fully answered by what The London Standard, a gold paper, has said. In its issue of July 1, 1895, in speaking of the closure of the Indian gold mints in 1893, it said: "The new policy of the Indian government is likely to intensify the appreciation of gold. We have pointed out elsewhere that the new policy is tentative and provisional, and that the most powerful members of the committee, who, in fact, carried the committee with him, look forward to the adoption of this policy as the accumulation of a gold reserve, while other members consider that the new policy cannot be carried out unless a gold reserve is accumulated as soon as may be. We are bound then to assume that, by and by, India will become a much larger consumer of gold. That being so, all the other governments will be anxious to anticipate India, and the result will be that the scramble for gold will receive a new impetus. If it does, then we have to look forward to further fall of prices, to frequent fluctuations in the value of the money market, to occasional severe spasms in the money market, to the further depreciation of gold will be to intensify the Indian depression, and all over Europe. Also, it is evident that the burden of debt, not only upon individuals, but upon governments, will be much increased. Everywhere the burden of debt will necessitate increased taxation, and so will weigh very heavily upon the general population."

In its issue of January 19, 1895, in describing the effect of this policy, it said: "The producing countries have been plunged into such distress that they are compelled to sell at whatever price they can get, and our people are so well off that they are able to buy larger and larger quantities every year. The first consequence of this is that the buying classes are exceedingly prosperous, and the foundation is being laid in the second place for a great increase in our trade because merchants are laying in stocks of material at exceptionally low prices."

The United Kingdom has the labor, the machinery and the capital to supply all the goods that the world can consume. The quantity of goods it may require, but our foreign customers were too poor to buy from us on the usual scale. The exports merely confirm what the imports tell us, that the producing countries are in deep distress, and that we are growing in wealth. Roughly, the decline in prices in the exports is half the decline in prices in the imports; or, to put it differently, we gained twice as much by buying our imports cheap as we lost in selling our exports also cheap. But a matter of fact the loss must have been trifling, if there was any loss. This country manufactures goods for all parts of the world, and cheap, coarse stuffs in value in their value are very much larger; the chief item is the raw material. But in buying the raw material we gained immensely, consequently there was a need for very much reduction in the wages."

We here see that in the judgment of the Statist the gold standard is enriching England, a creditor nation, at the expense of producing countries, of which our own is the foremost, which have been plunged into such distress that they are compelled to sell for whatever price they can get. Do not the advocates of the gold standard insult the intelligence of the American people, who are pre-eminently the victims of this destructive policy, by making them to vote for its continuance? Monetary conditions favorable to England, and reduction in the value of our currency, a debtor country, England wants lower prices for American produce, upon which her capital is employed in changing it into finished products; we want higher prices. The money market has an opportunity to say in November next, for the first time in twenty years, whether they are more interested in the prosperity of England than in the prosperity of this country. Our financial independence is vastly more important than our political independence, which was won for us by our revolutionary struggles, for without the former "liberty" is but an empty sound.

HENRY G. MILLER.

LIVE EDITORIAL SPARKS.

From The Springfield Republican.
 Congressman Hill, of Connecticut, makes a happy contribution to the garden seed literature of the day in a letter to a constituent, in which he says: "If you wish I will come up and make your garden for you." An idea. Have congress adjourn at once and make the members of it plant the seeds as well as distribute them.

From The Boston Herald.
 Holmes has now reduced the number of his murders from twenty-seven to five, and asks for a commutation of his sentence on the ground of the reduction. The popular belief is that the five murders deserve at least one hanging. Holmes must go.

From The Memphis Commercial-Appeal.
 Recorder Goff, of New York, evidently labors under the impression that he is a judge, jury and executioner. He has been reversed no less than six times recently for denying fair and impartial trials to accused persons. The professional reformer of ten makes a ridiculous officer of the law.

From The New York Mail and Express.
 Persons who visit the white house nowadays say that Mr. Cleveland is growing old rapidly. Perhaps the most striking indications of advanced decrepitude appear in his foreign policy.

From The St. Louis Republic.
 Buttons for admirers of all the candidates are being sold on the streets of St. Louis. The button vendor is strictly impartial in the matter of his political preferences. He is a mugwump.

From The Boston Globe.
 Some of the enthusiastic McKinley boomers have already got that candidate's presidential cabinet picked out for him. It has been intimated that McKinley should be elected he would not be the head of his own administration; but it was not suspected that his friends would begin to make his executive appointments for him quite as early as this.

From The St. Louis Republic.
 A woman stole a kiss from Tillman in Denver and was lauded for her boldness. The man has been charged with stealing a kiss from a woman in Chicago. And yet woman are bawling for equal rights.

Oh, for a Name!
 From The New York Herald.
 Many of the prominent politicians of New York and Brooklyn are being tangled up as to what will be the proper name to give to the new New York city of the future, which will embrace within its boundaries many towns, villages, hamlets and districts of which the two big cities are the logical and geographical heads. As any name which would not within its written or spoken meaning, clearly indicate the pre-existence of a New York and Brooklyn would only stir up protests, arouse anger and probably justify lights, it becomes necessary to hit upon a name which will place not only cities on record without disparaging either New York or Brooklyn, but the Long Island people insisted on fuller recognition. It is thought that York-Brook might fill the bill.

From The New York Herald.
 Many of the prominent politicians of New York and Brooklyn are being tangled up as to what will be the proper name to give to the new New York city of the future, which will embrace within its boundaries many towns, villages, ham

J. M. HIGH RETIRES FROM BUSINESS

His Health Demands That He Give Up Active Work.

IN A PRECARIOUS CONDITION

Cables from Paris the Verdict of His Physicians.

HE WILL REMAIN ABROAD INDEFINITELY

And His Business Will Be Succeeded to by Frank W. Holt and John E. McLelland.

J. M. High is seriously ill in Paris. Yesterday his house in this city received a cablegram from him stating that on account of the condition of his health he must retire permanently from business. The most skillful physicians in Paris have advised this course. His many friends in this country will be sorry to learn this news. Mr. High has been one of the most powerful factors in Atlanta's growth, and the business interest will suffer a serious loss in his retirement. He has been pronounced by the trade the best all-around drygoods merchant in the south, and the fact that he has accumulated a large fortune almost before he was forty years old, is evidence of his ability and worth. Few men of his age have achieved greater success.

Mr. High's health has been failing for some time. Last summer he spent quite a while traveling through Europe in hope and that the stock of goods will be sold at once.

Mr. Holt, one of the junior members, in speaking to a Constitution representative yesterday, said:

"It is true Mr. High is in Paris seriously ill, and that we today received a cablegram from him to close out the stock immediately, as he wished to retire from business. This is sad news to us. We have been associated with him for many years and in fact what we know about the dry goods business we have learned from him. We do not know exactly how sick he is, but the most skilled physicians in Paris state that he can devote no more time to business and that he must give up all hope of returning to Atlanta in the near future. He is at present in Paris, but will go to Carlsbad within a few days. He is attended by his wife and children and two nurses. Mr. High, before he left for Europe a few months ago, thought such a course would be advised by his physician and arranged for his retirement. The cablegram confirmed it."

"Yes," said Mr. J. E. McLelland, the financial member of the house, "the business will go on although Mr. High retires. The junior partners will have charge of it. Mr. High arranged this with us before he left the United States, and now that

Arthur Haney will not hang on Friday as fixed by Judge Candler.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

and that the stock of goods will be sold at once.

Mr. Holt, one of the junior members, in speaking to a Constitution representative yesterday, said:

"It is true Mr. High is in Paris seriously ill, and that we today received a cablegram from him to close out the stock immediately, as he wished to retire from business. This is sad news to us. We have been associated with him for many years and in fact what we know about the dry goods business we have learned from him. We do not know exactly how sick he is, but the most skilled physicians in Paris state that he can devote no more time to business and that he must give up all hope of returning to Atlanta in the near future. He is at present in Paris, but will go to Carlsbad within a few days. He is attended by his wife and children and two nurses. Mr. High, before he left for Europe a few months ago, thought such a course would be advised by his physician and arranged for his retirement. The cablegram confirmed it."

"Yes," said Mr. J. E. McLelland, the financial member of the house, "the business will go on although Mr. High retires. The junior partners will have charge of it. Mr. High arranged this with us before he left the United States, and now that

Arthur Haney will not hang on Friday as fixed by Judge Candler.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

WON'T HANG FRIDAY

Motion for a New Trial Was Overruled by Judge Candler.

GOES TO THE SUPREME COURT

The Young Murderer Is Hopeful That He Will Be Given Another Trial for His Life.

Arthur Haney will not hang on Friday as fixed by Judge Candler.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

The case of this young man, convicted in the criminal court of the murder of his life-long friend, Will Spinks, has been appealed to the supreme court and another effort will be made by his attorney.

SOCIETY NEWS AND GOSSIP.

Yesterday at noon Miss Lulu Bell Hemphill gave a beautiful and most enjoyable luncheon, in honor of Miss Lewis Butt, of Augusta. The occasion was an unusually happy one, as it happened to be the birthday of Mr. A. Hemphill and his brother, Mr. Robert A. Hemphill. Both gentlemen were present, and were overwhelmed with congratulations by ten young lady guests gathered about them at the table. The decorations of the drawing room were unusually bright and pretty, combining the shades of the Marchal Niel and pink roses with the graceful and fragrant woodbine now so popular in all decorations. Ribbons of yellow and pink were gracefully draped across the center of the table, and terminating at either end in bunches of exquisite flowers. The woodbine was used in profusion in all the decorations, and the unusually artistic menu cards, arranged as booklets, were exquisitely decorated with flowers. Each card bore a sonnet appropriate to its recipient. On Miss Candler's was:

"Like the woodbine, she Alone without, to those who love her Within, all mellowed gold
To those she loves,
Within, a merry maiden, and a maiden
To those she loves."

On Miss Butt's card was:

"Like, to the inhabitant of some clear Planet, close upon the sun
Than one man's earth;
Such eyes were in her head
And so much grace and power."

Miss Hemphill's guests, to meet Miss Butt, were: Miss Lillian Lochrane, Miss Lucy Peel, Miss Mary Lill Howard, Miss Reed, Miss A. S. Batts, Mrs. Henry Grady, Jr., Miss Dooley.

Yesterday afternoon from 4 until 7 o'clock the Women's Club held open their hospitable rooms and entertained a large party of the distinguished visitors of the medical convention.

The rooms were beautifully decorated with palms and ferns, and the windows were artistic in festoons of smilax and pink and white hydrangeas that filled each. An oblong table at the end of the room was most refreshing in the abundance of lovely garden roses used in decoration. Delicious punch was served throughout the evening with salads of all kinds and refreshing ices.

The orchestra, stationed in the hall-way, furnished a delightful musical programme during the reception, and several hundred guests called. Although the reception was given in the club in honor of the visiting women of the medical profession, a number of the visiting gentlemen and their wives were present, and the entertainment was in every sense a delightful one. Mrs. William B. Lowe, the president of the Women's Club, received the guests with that grace and tact characteristic of her as a successful hostess in her own home. She was assisted by Mrs. McCabe, Mrs. Snythe, Mrs. Donald Bain, Mrs. Frank Bell, Mrs. Charles Wilcox, Mrs. Lewis Beck, Mrs. John King Otley, Mrs. Hugh Hagan, Mrs. George S. May, Mrs. George Taylor and others.

The many friends of Miss Ida Haig will be pleased to learn of her return to the city after an absence of some time. Miss Haig will reside at No. 31 East Alexander street.

Miss Alice Stephens, the charming and highly accomplished daughter of Hon. J. Stephens, will leave the city tomorrow at noon for an extended trip through the principal points of interest in the north, where she will probably stop over in New York city with relatives for the balance of the summer. Miss Stephens's many friends will anxiously await her return.

Mr. Fred Schaue and Miss Lizze Morris, two young people well-known to this city, were united in the holy bonds of marriage yesterday at the home of Colonel and Mrs. John F. Morris, the parents of the bride. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. Y. Jameson, pastor of the West End Baptist church. The happy couple left for Florida immediately after the ceremony was performed and will be gone for some time.

Miss Morris is one of the most beautiful and popular young ladies in this city and is a young lady of rare talents.

Mr. Schaue is one of the best known young men in Atlanta and holds a responsible position with Inman, Smith & Co. He has the hearty congratulations of hundreds of friends.

Mrs. E. P. Chamberlin left yesterday afternoon for Rome, Ga.

Miss Eva Chamberlin leaves soon for Kentucky, where she will visit Miss Starling.

Yesterday afternoon the ladies and gentlemen of the city for the "Bicycle" had a most satisfactory rehearsal at the Grand, and are enthusiastic over the success that is assured them. Mrs. Sarah Grant Jackson, in the leading role, has surpassed the highest anticipations and her friends are looking forward to a rare treat. She has unusual histrionic ability and has had the advantage of study under the best of instructors.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Grady hospital met with their president, Mrs. Robert J. Lowry, yesterday morning, and reports from the various chairmen indicate renewed interest in the hospital work.

Appreciating the necessity and charitable object of the hospital, the ladies of the Grady hospital are continuing their enthusiastic work in behalf of the children's ward, and have every reason to believe they will soon be the benefit of their interest and labors.

The Battle Abbey Association met yesterday and continued arrangements for their May festival. They are meeting with unusual success, and the ladies of the Grady hospital are continuing their enthusiastic work in behalf of the children's ward, and have every reason to believe they will soon be the benefit of their interest and labors.

Mr. Albert Thornton entertains Miss Lucy Inman at a dinner party tonight.

Last night Mr. and Mrs. George M. Brown gave an informal but elegant reception in honor of Dr. Reginald H. Bayre, of New York city, one of the most distinguished of the visiting physicians.

Mrs. Brown's charming home was appropriately decorated with palms, ferns and a profusion of cut flowers. Carnations were used in the table decoration, and the refreshments were delicious.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown were assisted in the reception of their visiting guests by Judge and Mrs. V. B. Jones, Julius and Ethel Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Oglesby, Judge and Mrs. Egan, Misses Laura Adair and Fatten, Dr. and Mrs. Ridley, Dr. and Mrs. Elkin, Miss Dooley, Dr. and Mrs. Kendrick, Dr. and Mrs. Hunter Cooper, Dr. Charles Dumbat, Roy, Dr. and Mrs. Alexander, Dr. and Mrs. Earnest, Dr. and Mrs. Lewis Jones, Dr. and Mrs. Noble, Dr. and Mrs. McRae, Dr. Nicholson, Dr. and Mrs. Todd, Dr. and Mrs. Gevins of New York, Dr. and Mrs. Armstrong, Dr. and Mrs. Baird, Dr. and Mrs. Benson, Dr. and Mrs. Connolly and Dr. Drake.

Among the distinguished visiting strangers were Dr. Preilly of Detroit, and Dr. Gibney, of New York city.

ENJOINED THE SALE

The Bonds and Stocks of Mrs. Pendleton Were Not Sold Yesterday.

THE NEWS OF THE COURTS

A Large Number of Prisoners Were Convicted on Minor Charges in the City Criminal Court.

The banking firm of J. H. & A. L. James was yesterday enjoined by Judge Lumpkin from selling the bonds and stocks which were given by Mrs. Lizzie T. Pendleton as securities for a note which had been placed in the hands of the bankers, and the case was set for a final hearing on May 16th, at which time it will be determined by the court what disposition shall be made of the matter.

Several days ago Mrs. Pendleton received a notice from the bankers that night of the sale of the bonds and stocks, and she was informed that the bankers would reserve the right to buy in part or the whole amount of the bonds, if they so desired.

On yesterday morning Mrs. Pendleton filed a petition with the superior court, asking that the bankers be restrained from selling the bonds and stocks, as the note for which they were given as security was for the note of her husband and not for a debt which she herself owed, and also claiming that if the securities were sold at public outcry they would be sacrificed and much of the value of the paper would not be realized.

The petition stated that Mrs. Pendleton owed the firm a note in the amount of $12,444.44, which was given to the firm as security for a note which she had given to the firm for the purchase of the stock of the Investment Land Company. It was shown that the security was worth several times the face of the note, and as Mrs. Pendleton claimed that she had not the means with which to protect her securities were they sold at auction, she would be forced to sell with simple loss on account of the transaction.

Judge Lumpkin granted a temporary restraining order, enjoining the holders of the securities from making the sale, and setting the case for a final hearing on May 16th, at which time the case will be decided.

In the case of the state against Will Lloyd, who was charged with simple larceny, a motion was entered to noli prosequi, which was granted by Judge Berry, and an order was signed for the discharge of the prisoner.

Several witnesses testified that Remus Thompson was guilty of larceny from the house, but the jury found a verdict of not guilty, and his discharge was ordered by the court.

The case of O. R. Butcher, who was charged with assault and battery, was not pressed by agreement and on motion of the solicitor of the court. Butcher was charged with having assaulted and beaten E. H. Rodgers.

News of the Courts.

The docket in the first division of the city court was called yesterday morning by Judge Berry,

It Goes by Special Order to Europe for Uric Acid Diathesis, Gout, Rheumatic Gout, Rheumatism, etc. It is a Positive and the Only Known Solvent of Stone in the Bladder. Its Value in Bright's Disease.

good things had been said, as they were, and the pages of the of metal itself were almost as many any one could have made with Hatchett's, the inevitable egg, and strips of broken, veal patties, liver on toast, game, Cumberland ham, with choice wines acceptable Apollonia, was not difficult, by the way, is as popular in the triple in the United States of Europe. It was a veritable embaras
 The man of letters was deter-that his guests should have

STILL BULLISH.

Mr. Inman Comparatively Alone, Which Gives Him Satisfaction.

BOUGHT AND SOLD YESTERDAY

Fears That the Rise Will Be So Rapid as to Check the Export Movement—Stocks Close Lower.

Liverpool came in encouragingly yesterday morning, showing an advance, though it was thought to be inadequate to New York's advance of the day before. After the opening an additional slight improvement was noted, the close being at the best prices of the day.

New York opened higher, but immediately after realizing general and the market sagged off, the closing prices showing very little change from the day previous. The range was narrow, the favorite months—August, September and October—showing a difference of three to five points between the highest and lowest prices, and the decline was only checked by an order to buy for foreign account, which was executed at the close of business.

Weather conditions continue favorable. The following private wire telegrams were received yesterday:

New York, May 5.—Would not be surprised if the bull manipulators had been selling. Many are of opinion that the market is overdone, and that a decline is not far off. The market is not so strong as it appears to be, and a decline is not far off. The market is not so strong as it appears to be, and a decline is not far off.

Spot Cotton Quotations. Atlanta—Nominally, middling 10c. Liverpool—Firm, middling 10c. New York—Firm, middling 10c. New Orleans—Firm, middling 10c.

RECEIPTS	SHIPMENTS	STOCKS
Monday	215	21
Tuesday	215	21
Wednesday	215	21
Thursday	215	21
Friday	215	21
Saturday	215	21
Sunday	215	21
Total	215	21

McIntyre & Wardwell's Cotton Letter. By Private Wire to the Pine-Murphy Brokerage Company.

New York, May 5.—The Liverpool market was more encouraging for the spot market, which was firmer and fairly active, while futures were more quiet. Improvement in prices here accordingly was not so marked. The market was again brought into play to assist the advance, but the result was not so marked as the disposition today was to higher prices. The market was again brought into play to assist the advance, but the result was not so marked as the disposition today was to higher prices.

THE STOCK MARKET. Speculation Closed Dull at Losses of 1-8 to 1-4 Per Cent.

New York, May 5.—The stock market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

THE CHICAGO MARKET. Wheat Rallied Yesterday and Closed at a Fraction Higher.

Chicago, May 5.—Wheat had a fairly rally to 27 1/2 cents. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

THE DRY GOODS MARKET. New York, May 5.—The dry goods market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

THE SUN'S COTTON REVIEW. New York, May 5.—Cotton advanced 2 to 3 points, but lost the improvement and near months and unchanged to 3 points on the distant months with the steady and the sales 22,300 bales.

Early Morning Gossip. By Private Wire to the Pine-Murphy Brokerage Company.

New York, May 5.—Sentiment last night very bullish, partly because the market was strong and extreme dull.

shorts. The southern markets were also strong and more active, while the exports from the ports were of fair proportions. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.'s Cotton Letter. New York, May 5.—The markets display the same features which have been dominant during the past month, namely, the demand to cover contracts sold in London has done very little today, and the market is not so strong as it appears to be.

THE LIVERPOOL AND PORT MARKET. Liverpool, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

THE LIVERPOOL AND PORT MARKET. Liverpool, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

THE LIVERPOOL AND PORT MARKET. Liverpool, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

THE LIVERPOOL AND PORT MARKET. Liverpool, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

THE LIVERPOOL AND PORT MARKET. Liverpool, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

THE LIVERPOOL AND PORT MARKET. Liverpool, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

THE LIVERPOOL AND PORT MARKET. Liverpool, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

THE LIVERPOOL AND PORT MARKET. Liverpool, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

THE LIVERPOOL AND PORT MARKET. Liverpool, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

THE LIVERPOOL AND PORT MARKET. Liverpool, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

THE LIVERPOOL AND PORT MARKET. Liverpool, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

THE LIVERPOOL AND PORT MARKET. Liverpool, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

THE LIVERPOOL AND PORT MARKET. Liverpool, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

THE LIVERPOOL AND PORT MARKET. Liverpool, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

THE LIVERPOOL AND PORT MARKET. Liverpool, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

THE LIVERPOOL AND PORT MARKET. Liverpool, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

THE LIVERPOOL AND PORT MARKET. Liverpool, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

THE LIVERPOOL AND PORT MARKET. Liverpool, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

THE LIVERPOOL AND PORT MARKET. Liverpool, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

THE LIVERPOOL AND PORT MARKET. Liverpool, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

THE LIVERPOOL AND PORT MARKET. Liverpool, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

THE LIVERPOOL AND PORT MARKET. Liverpool, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

THE LIVERPOOL AND PORT MARKET. Liverpool, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

THE LIVERPOOL AND PORT MARKET. Liverpool, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

THE LIVERPOOL AND PORT MARKET. Liverpool, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

THE LIVERPOOL AND PORT MARKET. Liverpool, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

THE LIVERPOOL AND PORT MARKET. Liverpool, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

ness. Exchange was weaker on offerings of bankers' bills. Gold can be shipped, however, both to Paris and Germany. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

Distillers and Cattle Feeding people say there is nothing in the report of a big Boston Special. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

Heidelberg, Lohmeyer & Co. will ship about 2,000 shares. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

The gold shipped on Thursday's steamship is part of the "special" order for Russia. There may be more this week. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

Closing Stock Review. New York, May 5.—The stock market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

Bureau: The stock market today, with pronounced weakness in some of the industrial shares, Laclede Gas declined 3/4 per cent on disappointment at the delay in the decision of the commission on the rate of the electric light company.

States Leather preferred broke over 1 per cent on the report of a general advance in the price of leather. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

of which was lost near the close on realizing. Clearances were much better than for some time past at about 25,000 bushels. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

Provisions, Grain, Etc. By Private Wire to the Pine-Murphy Brokerage Company.

The visible supply is expected to decrease 2,500 bushels today. Last year it decreased 4,000 bushels. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

One hundred and eighty thousand bushels of cash wheat was sold to go into interior receipts. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

In oats Seavers & Barlett are selling September. They were weak with wheat and are now rallying with it. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

Contract stocks of wheat for the week ended 24,000 bushels. Corn, increase, 50,000 bushels, and oats, increase, 372,000 bushels. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

These contract stocks are: Wheat, No. 2 red, 1,000,000; No. 1 northern, 5,000,000; No. 2 white, 1,000,000; No. 1 southern, 1,414,000; No. 2, 4,000,000; oats, 2,301,000. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

Bloomington, Ill., wires: "It is reported by reliable authority that chinch bugs are here by the millions." The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

Clearances at all ports of wheat and flour equal 224,000 bushels of wheat; corn, 271,000; oats, 1,000,000. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

Primary receipts: Wheat, 33,247 bushels, against 27,100 last year; shipments, 73,838, against 41,000. Corn receipts, 373,533, against 271,000. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

of which was lost near the close on realizing. Clearances were much better than for some time past at about 25,000 bushels. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

Provisions, Grain, Etc. By Private Wire to the Pine-Murphy Brokerage Company.

The visible supply is expected to decrease 2,500 bushels today. Last year it decreased 4,000 bushels. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

One hundred and eighty thousand bushels of cash wheat was sold to go into interior receipts. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

In oats Seavers & Barlett are selling September. They were weak with wheat and are now rallying with it. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

Contract stocks of wheat for the week ended 24,000 bushels. Corn, increase, 50,000 bushels, and oats, increase, 372,000 bushels. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

These contract stocks are: Wheat, No. 2 red, 1,000,000; No. 1 northern, 5,000,000; No. 2 white, 1,000,000; No. 1 southern, 1,414,000; No. 2, 4,000,000; oats, 2,301,000. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

Bloomington, Ill., wires: "It is reported by reliable authority that chinch bugs are here by the millions." The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

Clearances at all ports of wheat and flour equal 224,000 bushels of wheat; corn, 271,000; oats, 1,000,000. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

Primary receipts: Wheat, 33,247 bushels, against 27,100 last year; shipments, 73,838, against 41,000. Corn receipts, 373,533, against 271,000. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.

St. Louis, May 5.—Cotton quiet, sales 8,000 bales, middling 10c. The market was one of the most speculative of the year, with the bulk of the business transacting in the small total of 100,000 shares.</

WEDDING PRESENTS.

In Cut Glass, Solid Silver and Eancy Goods.

We send goods on selection.
Write us before you buy.

We also engrave Wedding Invitations and Visiting Cards.

SEND FOR OUR SAMPLES

J. P. STEVENS & BRO.,
47 Whitehall Street.

hot weather

keep cool

claret and apollinaris—don't cost much—it's so refreshing and healthy—we have claret in thirty grades—from the cheapest California to the finest Bordeaux—drink it with meals and other occasions.

whisky too

if you prefer—such brands as Canadian club, old oscar pepper, four acres, etc.

bluthenthal "b. & b."

& bickari

everything else "invigorating" marieita and forsyth streets, hello, etc.

OPUM and Whiskey Habits cured at home with out pain. Book of particulars sent FREE.
Atlanta, Ga. Office 104 Whitehall St.

We Manufacture

ALL KINDS—TRUNKS, VALISES, BAGS, CASES, Etc.

THE MOST CONVENIENT TRUNK EVER DEvised.

H. W. ROUNTREE & BRO.

TRUNK AND BAG COMPANY,

77 Whitehall Street, Atlanta, Ga.,
and Richmond, Va.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.

NEW AUTOMATIC

REVOLVING TRAY TRUNK.

NO STRAIN ON THE BACK.

So easy that a child can work it.
See it and you will buy no other.
Manufactured and for sale ONLY at

Lieberman's Trunk Factory

92 WHITEHALL ST.

Special Baptist young people's train for Chattanooga via Southern Railway leaves Atlanta 6 a.
m. May 7th, arrive Chattanooga 10.30 a. m.
Round trip tickets $4.10 on sale May 5, 6, 7 and
8. Three other trains in daily operation. Ticket office Kimball house corner.

At 3 O'Clock

Tomorrow afternoon Colonel G. W. Adair and Dr. H. L. Wilson will sell the Exposition buildings at auction. Don't miss the sale.

HARALSON BLECKLEY, H. N. TYLER, BLECKLEY & TYLER,
ARCHITECTS,
401-402 FIFTH BUILDING.

WILL MEET TODAY

County Commissioners Will Meet in Regular Session This Morning.

MUCH WORK BEFORE THE BODY

Several Sessions May Be Sprung as the Result of Investigations Which Have Been Made.

The meeting of the board of county commissioners, which will be held this morning at 10 o'clock in the office of the clerk of the board, will probably be one of the most interesting sessions that has been held by that body in many months.

A number of interesting questions are expected to come up for discussion, and several sessions may be sprung as the result of investigations which have been quietly going on for several weeks.

Commissioner Forrest Adair will, no doubt, create quite a surprise when he makes the statement to the board that the county has been annually losing many thousand dollars which it was entitled to receive. The source of the leakage of the department through which the apparent shortage has grown was not intimated by Mr. Adair, and he simply stated that he had made a startling discovery which was revealed by a careful study of the tax books. Mr. Adair said yesterday afternoon that the matter was in such shape that he could not give it any publicity until the board was in session, and that he was not authorized to make a statement for publication.

Another interesting feature of the session of the board is the rumored proposition to settle which may be made by ex-County Clerk John Tyler Cooper. Mr. A. L.
Waldo has been at work upon the books for several days and late yesterday afternoon his report was filed with the chairman of the finance committee, and this report will be rendered this morning.

The report of Mr. Waldo is the result of many days' hard work, and the task required patience and thoroughness. He has been compelled to make a brief of nearly all of the books of record which are in the office of the county commissioners, and the report will be necessarily quite lengthy.

To Vindicate Armistead.
The investigation of the tax digest of Receiver Armistead, which was made at the request of Mr. Armistead, will be made known to the board of commissioners this morning.

The report of the grand jury stated that many duplicate returns had been found on the tax digest for 1894 and 1895, and
claimed that the tax receiver had received a large amount of commissions to which he was not entitled.

When the report of the grand jury reached
Mr. Armistead he at once called before the commissioners and asked that an investigation be made, as he was positive that no duplicate returns had been entered on the books.

The commissioners selected Mr. A. L.
Waldo, and the investigation has been completed after three weeks' work, and the report will be handed in this morning by the finance committee. The report will show that the books of Mr. Armistead have been correctly kept, and a difference of not more than $3.50 in commissions could be found for the two years.

May Retain the Engineer.
At the last meeting of the board the services of Engineer Johnson, who was made at the request of Mr. Armistead, will be made known to the board of commissioners this
morning.

The report of the grand jury stated that many duplicate returns had been found
on the tax digest for 1894 and 1895, and
claimed that the tax receiver had received
a large amount of commissions to which he
was not entitled.

When the report of the grand jury reached
Mr. Armistead he at once called before
the commissioners and asked that an investigation be made, as he was positive that no duplicate returns had been entered on the books.

The commissioners selected Mr. A. L.
Waldo, and the investigation has been completed after three weeks' work, and the report will be handed in this morning by
the finance committee. The report will show that the books of Mr. Armistead have been correctly kept, and a difference of not more than $3.50 in commissions could be
found for the two years.

Excursion to Tampa.
Those of our people who went on the
recently conducted excursion to Tampa,
run last year by the Georgia Southern and Florida railway, will remember with pleasure their enjoyable experience and will be pleased to learn that the Georgia Southern and Florida railway is again offering an excursion to Tampa on Monday, May 27th, it is intended by the passenger department to make this excursion more enjoyable than that of last year. Arrangements are being made to give the excursionists cheap
tickets and another car is being added to the train. The excursion will leave Tampa Monday morning for the orange groves. There are many interesting points in and around Tampa, and the excursion is a most delightful place in May.

The round trip rates will be named
from Atlanta to Levee, Vining's, Smyrna, Marietta and Kennesaw mountain upon request.

Apply to C. E. Harman, general passenger agent, No. 307 Equitable building.

Excursion to Tampa.
Those of our people who went on the
recently conducted excursion to Tampa,
run last year by the Georgia Southern and Florida railway, will remember with pleasure their enjoyable experience and will be pleased to learn that the Georgia Southern and Florida railway is again offering an excursion to Tampa on Monday, May 27th, it
is intended by the passenger department to make this excursion more enjoyable than that of last year. Arrangements are being made to give the excursionists cheap
tickets and another car is being added to
the train. The excursion will leave Tampa Monday morning for the orange groves. There are many interesting points in and around Tampa, and the excursion is a most delightful place in May.

The round trip rates will be named
from Atlanta to Levee, Vining's, Smyrna, Marietta and Kennesaw mountain upon request.

Apply to C. E. Harman, general passenger agent, No. 307 Equitable building.

MUNYON'S

Improved Homoeopathic REMEDIES

SAVE DOCTOR'S FEES

With Munyon's Guide to Health and a Munyon Family Medicine Chest
in the House You Can

AVOID LONG SPELLS OF SICKNESS

The Munyon Remedies act instantly, giving relief before the first two or three doses and effecting a rapid cure even in the most obstinate cases. There is a separate Munyon Remedy for each disease and each specific has plain directions, so there can be no mistake. If you are ailing read Munyon's Guide to Health; it will describe your disease and tell you how to cure yourself with a 25-cent Munyon Remedy.
If you find that you have rheumatism, take Munyon's Rheumatism Cure, and your pains and aches will be gone in a few days. If you have stomach trouble take Munyon's Dyspepsia Remedy; for a cough, cough, the Cold Cure or the Cough Cure, and so on. No matter what the disease you can be absolutely certain of a cure if you take the remedy recommended in the "Guide." Where you are in doubt, a personal letter to Professor Munyon, 1261 Arch street, Philadelphia, Pa., will be answered, with free medical advice for any disease.

At all druggists—25c a bottle.

JACK HAMMOND'S FATE.

LIEUTENANT BROWN DEEPLY IN-TERESTED IN HIS SAFETY.

Knew Him Well a Few Years Ago as Jack Hammond, of San Francisco.

Lieutenant Oscar Brown, of this city, is deeply interested in what President Krueger will do with John Hays Hammond, and is watching the daily reports of the case with eagerness.

Mr. Hammond is a warm personal friend of Lieutenant Brown's, and a few years ago he made the brilliant civil engineer famous seek his fortunes in the gold fields of south Africa, the young lieutenant was almost a daily visitor at his home. Young Hammond at this time resided with his father at San Francisco. Lieutenant Brown was stationed at Pretoria and saw much of the ambitious civil engineer. A younger brother of John Hays Hammond was a classmate of Lieutenant Brown at West Point, and the two were close personal friends.

This warm ally and in the days when he was in the office of the county commissioners, and the report will be necessarily quite
lengthy.

To Vindicate Armistead.
The investigation of the tax digest of Receiver Armistead, which was made at the request of Mr. Armistead, will be made known to the board of commissioners this
morning.

The report of the grand jury stated that many duplicate returns had been found on the tax digest for 1894 and 1895, and
claimed that the tax receiver had received
a large amount of commissions to which he
was not entitled.

When the report of the grand jury reached
Mr. Armistead he at once called before
the commissioners and asked that an investigation be made, as he was positive that no duplicate returns had been entered on the books.

The commissioners selected Mr. A. L.
Waldo, and the investigation has been completed after three weeks' work, and the report will be handed in this morning by the finance committee. The report will show that the books of Mr. Armistead have been correctly kept, and a difference of not more than $3.50 in commissions could be
found for the two years.

May Retain the Engineer.
At the last meeting of the board the services of Engineer Johnson, who was made at the request of Mr. Armistead, will be made known to the board of commissioners this
morning.

The report of the grand jury stated that many duplicate returns had been found on the tax digest for 1894 and 1895, and
claimed that the tax receiver had received
a large amount of commissions to which he
was not entitled.

When the report of the grand jury reached
Mr. Armistead he at once called before
the commissioners and asked that an investigation be made, as he was positive that no duplicate returns had been entered on the books.

The commissioners selected Mr. A. L.
Waldo, and the investigation has been completed after three weeks' work, and the report will be handed in this morning by the finance committee. The report will show that the books of Mr. Armistead have been correctly kept, and a difference of not more than $3.50 in commissions could be
found for the two years.

Excursion to Tampa.
Those of our people who went on the
recently conducted excursion to Tampa,
run last year by the Georgia Southern and Florida railway, will remember with pleasure their enjoyable experience and will be pleased to learn that the Georgia Southern and Florida railway is again offering an excursion to Tampa on Monday, May 27th, it
is intended by the passenger department to make this excursion more enjoyable than that of last year. Arrangements are being made to give the excursionists cheap
tickets and another car is being added to
the train. The excursion will leave Tampa Monday morning for the orange groves. There are many interesting points in and around Tampa, and the excursion is a most delightful place in May.

The round trip rates will be named
from Atlanta to Levee, Vining's, Smyrna, Marietta and Kennesaw mountain upon request.

Apply to C. E. Harman, general passenger agent, No. 307 Equitable building.

Excursion to Tampa.
Those of our people who went on the
recently conducted excursion to Tampa,
run last year by the Georgia Southern and Florida railway, will remember with pleasure their enjoyable experience and will be pleased to learn that the Georgia Southern and Florida railway is again offering an excursion to Tampa on Monday, May 27th, it
is intended by the passenger department to make this excursion more enjoyable than that of last year. Arrangements are being made to give the excursionists cheap
tickets and another car is being added to
the train. The excursion will leave Tampa Monday morning for the orange groves. There are many interesting points in and around Tampa, and the excursion is a most delightful place in May.

The round trip rates will be named
from Atlanta to Levee, Vining's, Smyrna, Marietta and Kennesaw mountain upon request.

Apply to C. E. Harman, general passenger agent, No. 307 Equitable building.

Spring Suits.

The fineness, the thoroughly excellent workmanship, beauty of finish, exact fitting and evident pains-taking warrant the statement we make about the Clothing we sell in this store—Well nigh perfect. That certain touch that is expected from a merchant tailor we attain in garments ready to put on. Perfect-fitting Coats—neither stiff nor flabby. In fact, altogether such Clothing that earns an award of first-class. Easy prices.

Bring the boys to don a Little Junior Suit. You'll be surprised what $3 will do. Of course, pay $8—far finer. $5 to $15 for Big Boys. Brightest, choicest, nicest Clothes in the city—with with two to four dollars to be saved every time.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

WE MAKE A SPECIALTY OF HEALTH FOODS, viz:
Granose, Granola, Caramel Cereal, Oatmeal and Graham Wafers, Zweiback and Beaten Biscuit from Battle Creek Sanitarium; Farwell and Phines' scientifically prepared Flours for Diabetes, Dyspepsia and Bright's Disease; Schumacher's white and amber Graham Flours, Parched Farinase and Cereals, Franklin Mills' fine Flour of Entire Wheat, Shredded Whole Wheat Biscuit, Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY COMPANY,
390 and 392 Peachtree Street.

MERCHANTS,

MECHANICS, MINISTERS, LAWYERS, DOCTORS,
STUDENTS, MEN and BOYS, YOUNG
and OLD

Suits, Straw Hats, Negligee Attire of every description for the hot weather.

THE RELIABLE KIND ONLY

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

HIRSCH BROS., 44 Whitehall Street.

TESTIFY to the merits of our Clothing. We have the kind to suit every size, every shape, every purse.

Suits, Straw Hats, Negligee Attire
of every description